Valley Iron Works to Be A-C Subsidiary

Living Costs Show Decline During July

Drop Attributed To Downward Trend In Food Prices

Washington — The cost of living edged down one-tenth of 1 per cent last month from July's record high, the labor department reported today.

A big seasonal drop in food prices, nine-tenths of 1 per cent, was solely responsible for halting the summer spurt of consumer prices.

Price tags were higher on virtually everything else making up the average city family's costs.

Some Pay Increases
The index stood at 124.8 per cent of the 1947-49 average. This was nine-tenths of 1 per cent higher than a year earlier. The figure means it now takes nearly $1.25 to buy what cost a dollar in the years immediately after World war II.

In spite of the slight drop in costs, at least 125,000 workers will receive wage increases under cost-of-living escalator contracts which are adjusted quarterly. Workers in North American aviation plants and Martin plants at Baltimore and Denver will receive a one-cent hourly pay boost; Hughes aircraft and some other companies will give a 2-cent increase.

Almost all food prices declined in August. Fresh fruits and vegetables, beef, pork and poultry showed the largest reduction.

Pork prices dropped 3 per cent and over-all prices of meat, poultry and fish went down almost 2 per cent.

Same Management Will Operate Paper Machine Firm After Transaction; Owners to Vote

Plans for the acquisition of the assets of the Valley Iron Works company, 401 E. South Island street, by the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing company, Milwaukee, were announced today by R. A. Peterson, president of the Appleton firm.

Peterson said the transaction had been approved by the boards of directors of both companies and was subject to final approval by the Valley Iron Works company stockholders. The change is expected to become effective about Oct. 30.

Allis-Chalmers will acquire the business with authorized but unissued common stock. Will Be Subsidiary

The Valley Iron Works company will operate as a wholly-owned subsidiary of Allis-Chalmers under the name of Valley Iron Works corporation and will continue to manufacture papermaking machinery, according to Peterson.

"We will continue to operate with the same staff, sales organization and present office," Peterson said.

Concerning the transfer, Peterson said the move would "serve to strengthen his and local tickets to victory."

Other Advantages
"In addition," said Peterson, "Allis-Chalmers offers the advantages of making available to us outstanding engineering talent, as well as research, laboratory and technical assistance."

Peterson said that he felt this move would be advantageous to the entire Appleton community and Fox Cities area, just as it would for 300 employees of the 60-year-old Valley Iron Works company.

Kennedy Invited to New Hampshire Race
Concord, N. H. — The New Hampshire Democratic state committee has unanimously asked Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) to enter the state's first-of-the-nation presidential primary March 8.

A resolution adopted last night termed Kennedy "the only prospective candidate" who can "win the support and confidence of all the people and lead our national, state and local tickets to victory."

Des Moines Greets Mr. K. Quietly; Lone Taunter Criticized by Crowd

Des Moines — High on a rooftop above the crowd which had gathered either to see or to greet — or to taunt — the round man of the Soviet Union, stood a rifleman in a police uniform. His rifle, equipped with a telescopic sight, was cradled in his arm.

On either side of him were two plain clothes men. They scanned the crowd with binoculars.

Inside the Fort Des Moines hotel, the lobby was crowded. People chatted principally about Premier Nikita Khrushchev. Some had been sitting in the lobby since 8 a. m. It was now 1:30 p. m.

A little boy kept asking his mother the same question: "Where's Khrushchev?" And the Soviet premier was winging his way to the red carpet rendezvous in the heart of America's great corn belt where farmers raise five times more produce per man than his brothers in the Soviet Union.

Weary Nikita Sees Tall Corn On Iowa Visit

Showing Effects of Strenuous Tour; Pleased by Reception

BY WILLIAM L. RYAN

Des Moines — Nikita S. Khrushchev, beginning to show signs of heavy fatigue, began another rugged round of activities today with a 75-mile automobile trip for a close look at Iowa's tall corn.

The Soviet premier, though obviously happy at the friendly reception he received in America's corn belt, showed definite signs last night of being dog-tired after more than a week of strenuous touring, speaking and arguing.

Khrushchev travelled to the farm of Roswell (Bob) Garst near Coon Rapids for a look at American methods of raising corn and producing animal fodder, subjects close to Khrushchev's heart.

Escorted by Police
For the Soviet boss, the visit to the farm was a renewal of his acquaintance with his host, who has been Khrushchev's guest in the Soviet Union several times.

There was a spattering of applause from the crowd as the premier, accompanied by Garst and Henry Cabot Lodge, U. S. ambassador to the United Nations, stepped from the hotel. The party quickly entered cars. The motorcade moved out with a motorcycle police escort.

The Soviet premier had fortified himself with a substantial breakfast of fruit juice, poached trout, blintzes — a sort of pancake — with melba sauce, roast loin of veal, vegetables, sliced cucumbers.

Family Outing to Pick Wild Cranberries Leads to Upper Michigan Tragedy

Munising, Mich. — (AP) — "They wanted to get in the same boat because it would be more fun."

A bewildered father—the only survivor of a boating accident that took the lives of his wife, 10 children and his brother—was too grief-stricken for tears as he described the tragedy to state police.

"I was very confused—it all happened so suddenly," said Leonard Larson, 42, as the bodies were brought ashore from Lake McKeever in upper Michigan's Hiawatha National forest yesterday.

The family, on a day's outing to pick wild cranberries, had piled into a 12-foot outboard motorboat. It capsized 40 feet from shore. None could swim. The father saved himself by climbing atop the overturned boat.

Helpless, he saw his wife, children and his brother, Harry, 64, go down in water so clear the bodies could be seen 15 feet down.

All the Larsons' children but the oldest daughter, Doris May, 16, were along. She was attending high school in Marquette.

"I didn't cry when I heard the news," Doris May said. "I just wanted to see my father."

Worked at Sawmill
Leonard Larson is a sawmill worker in the little lumbering town of Skandia, 30 miles from the scene of the tragedy.

A short, thin man with wispy brown hair, Larson told what happened and then said: "What is there that anybody can do for me now?"

Like most big families, the Larsons were happy but "poor as church mice," fellow villagers said.

"We've been coming to this lake for several years to pick wild cranberries," Larson said. "We preserved them."

"All the family wanted to come along. They wanted to go in the same boat because it would be more fun."

The children were out of classes because the village school was closed for the day for repairs.

The boat belonged to the uncle, a bachelor, who helped care for some of the children at his home and was always included in the family circle.

The uncle also worked at the sawmill.

Boat Tips Over
"The boat was about 40 feet out in the water when I started the motor," Larson said. "The boat suddenly went down and the boat flopped over, throwing all of us in the water."

"Although I couldn't swim, I was close enough to grab the boat and climb up on the overturned bottom."

"I had a hand on one of the girls once but I lost hold and she slipped away."

The boat moved aimlessly around before its 5-horsepower motor stopped churning.

Larson reached shore by using one hand and one leg to row the overturned craft.

The victims were the mother, Mrs. Doris Larson, 41; the uncle, and the children — Arthur, 15; Shirley, 13; Harry, 10; Marlene, 9; Freddie, 8; Carol, 7; Robert, 6; Mary Ann, 5; Melody, 4; and Terry Lee, 3 months.

The late is in forest lands where legend says the poet Longfellow's Hiawatha lived, 2:30 a. m.

Nelson Again May Ask Revamping of Conservation Group

Madison — Gov. Gaylord Nelson said today he is considering asking the legislature for the second time this year to reorganize the Wisconsin Conservation commission.

The governor said the commission's recent action in using Republican State Headquarters facilities to draft and distribute an official letter "proves an urgent need for taking the conservation commission and the department out of politics."

"In the light of this incident," the Democratic chief executive said, "I shall consider the advisability of reorganizing the conservation commission so as to take it out of politics."

Airline Unions Make Plans for Common Strike

San Francisco — Airline unions are making common strike plans to match an airline industry pact to pool profits during walkouts.

Six airline unions have decided to let their contracts drift to a common expiration point to bring industrywide pressure on the carriers. This is designed to counter a plan put into effect by major airlines last fall to pool profits when any one of them is strikebound.

The agreement among the AFL-CIO airline unions also has the effect of further isolating the expelled teamsters union.

This isolation was further enhanced when the AFL-CIO convention voted unanimously yesterday to take back the International Longshoremen's association. The east coast dockers union was expelled by the former AFL on corruption charges in 1953.

Indiana Child Found Strangled

Marion, Ind. — The body of 9-year-old Belynda Eltzroth was found in shallow water in the Mississinewa river near here early today. The coroner said she had been raped and strangled.

Belynda disappeared last night while en route to a grocery on her bicycle.

Police Chief Charles Rodgers said a man was being sought for the slaying.

Two detectives found the body at 1:30 a. m.

Belynda, an average-sized girl, left her home at 7 o'clock last night. When she had not returned at 8:30 her mother and her stepfather, Ernest Sprong, started looking for her. At 10 o'clock, police were notified.

Wants Narcotics Curb

Called Best Way to Fight Juvenile Crime

New York — Mayor Robert F. Wagner told a U. S. senate subcommittee today that the federal government can help most in the fight against teenage crime by combating narcotics traffic.

"I believe it to be the most important role the federal government can play in the framework of our government, in attacking the criminal aspects of our youth problem," Wagner told the subcommittee.

Wagner was the first witness as Sen. Thomas C. Hennings' subcommittee on juvenile delinquency opened the first of a series of hearings on the spreading problem. The 5-year-old subcommittee later will go on to other cities across the country.

Different Approaches
The mayor said New York City is doing everything it can to fight its own battle against teenage crime. He differentiated between the young criminal and the juvenile delinquent.

"The first rises, of course, from the second, but in handling it we believe there is no approach but the approach of law enforcement, the police approach, if you will," he said.

"In handling the second, the problem of the juvenile delinquent whom we are trying to prevent from becoming a criminal, we are using virtually every approach known to society."

"We have not abandoned these youths, these teenagers, nor will we until they become criminals," Wagner went on. "Then they are, and will be, continued to be treated, like any other criminal."

Narcotics Problem
The mayor said everyone working in the field of juvenile delinquency agrees that narcotics is an increasing problem with a definite tie to crime among youngsters.

"It's importation, and distribution in the United States, is big time crime, well financed, well organized, and certainly going beyond the police powers of any city or state," he declared.

Wagner has said New York City ranks eighteenth from the top among the nation's largest cities in the amount of major crimes committed by young people.

Crowd Intense
Word shuttled through the crowd in the lobby that the big Boeing 707 jet plane had landed; that the man from Asia was soon to enter the hotel. The crowd was stimulated. It spoke more loudly, more nervously, grew intense.

Edward Dosek, born of Czechoslovakian parents and now a native of Lincoln, Neb., opined that Americans are gullible; they are ever ready to accept a personality on the basis of personal magnetism only.

"I was in Czechoslovakia last November on business. The people there under communist rule have nothing of value to hold to except memory. The Czech is law abiding and afraid to speak if it will make trouble. They want to behave, but they adore their religion and their church. They harbor their feeling about the communist yoke deep in their fears."

Hushed Greeting
In front of the hotel a baby blue convertible rolled to a smooth stop.

Outside, the crowd stood still, tense and birdlike while it watched the movements of the world's most powerful human. There was not a stir in the crowd, except to crane.

His grin and magnetism caused some very real shows of emotion. A woman in the lobby near me emitted a single, voluble sob, just from the thrill of it all.

Appleton Firm Joined With One of World's Largest

Allis-Chalmers Employs 40,000
At 22 Plants in Five Countries

The announcement today that Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing company, Milwaukee, has acquired the assets of Valley Iron Works company brings the Appleton firm together with one of the world's largest manufacturers.

Allis-Chalmers in its 112 years has grown out of a provincial flour mill supply firm into one with 40,000 employees in 22 plants in the United States, Canada, England, Mexico and Australia.

Valley Iron is nearly 60 years old. It was incorporated March 26, 1900, by Emil A. Peterson, A. L. Smith, W. A. Fannon, G. S. Hobart and George M. Brill to succeed Valley Iron Works Manufacturing company.

Brill President
The predecessor had manufactured pulp and paper mill machinery, general milling machinery, waterwheels and other products. The new corporation enlarged and improved the pulp and paper mill line, but discontinued manufacture of general milling machinery and waterwheels.

Brill was the first president, Fannon, secretary and treasurer, Smith, vice president, and Peterson, general superintendent.

Fannon became president and Peterson manager and treasurer after Brill and Hobart disposed of their holdings in 1904.

Smith's estate sold its interests to Fannon, Emil A. Peterson, A. L. Peterson, William H. Burns and E. A. Morse in January, 1905.

The interests, holdings of the company remained the same until June 2, 1920, when Fannon, Morse and A. L. Peterson sold to a group of new stockholders.

In the reorganization that followed, Emil Peterson became president and general manager, Ernst Nahler, vice president, R. S. Powell, treasurer, R. A. Peterson, assistant treasurer, and Burns, secretary.

R. A. Peterson succeeded his father, Emil, as president, upon the father's death, Sept. 13, 1936. Burns, who had started as bookkeeper in 1901, had been secretary 33 years when he died in 1939.

Present Managers
Today's elected management includes R. A. Peterson, president and general manager; W. Arthur Homes, assistant general manager; Wilbur C. Nolte, assistant executive vice president; Paul Boronow, vice president and general sales manager; William K. Kolb, vice president of industrial sales; Richard U. Temple, vice president in sales; Raymond A. Bennett, vice president in sales; Talbot A. Peterson, secretary; Gregory A. Schulte, treasurer; and Carl G. Malmberg, works manager.

Members of the board of directors include R. A. Peterson, chairman, Talbot Peterson, John R. Kimberly, John S. Sensenbrenner, Helm C. Hussner, Kolb and Homes. Valley Iron has about $5,000 shares of common stock issued from an authorized $0,000.

Typically, it has kept abreast of power needs so that it now is prominent in the field of nuclear power generation.

Allis-Chalmers' sales totaled $331,972,000 in 1966. Its net income for the year was $19,657,000, of which $10,692,000 was paid in dividends to shareholders. The 58,347 shareholders hold 8,216,016 shares.

Don't Let Guests Fend For Selves

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: My son will be confirmed shortly. The ceremony will take place in a temple at a morning service. A large reception will be held that evening in a hotel. I am having several out-of-town relatives and friends. Must I ask them to come back to my house for lunch after the ceremony? I don't think this is necessary but other members of my family feel that since they are from out of town, it would be very rude not to. Other guests will go back to their own houses after the ceremony. Will you please tell me what is correct in this situation?

Answer: If you expect your relatives and friends coming from a distance to wait from the end of the morning ceremony until the evening reception, you must invite them for lunch because you cannot leave them to fend for themselves in a strange town.

Introductions at Table
Dear Mrs. Post: When seated in a restaurant with a friend and her mother happens to come by and she stops and we are introduced, should I rise to meet her mother? Answer: If you are a man, you do of course; if a woman, you don't in a crowded restaurant unless you, at the other extreme, are very old. In any case it would be polite to make the gesture of rising if obviously that is all you can do without standing in the way.

Alternate invitations
Dear Mrs. Post: Is it necessary to give and accept invitations in consecutive order? Answer: The "invitation for invitation" applies only to those whose acquaintance is formal as well as new. Friends never keep any such account. Naturally when Mary and John invite Jim and Jane time and time again, they may expect the latter to invite them to something sometime, but the invitations do not alternate first from one and then from the other.

Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you like to have her leaflet E-18, entitled "Questions in Etiquette Test," send 10 cents in coin to Dept. E.P., care of this newspaper, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Browned Flour Makes Tasty Golden Gravy

The old-fashioned way with gravy was to use browned flour for thickening. Result: Good color and flavor. To brown flour stir it in a skillet over low heat until a dark golden color. Flour prepared this way has less thickening power than a corresponding amount of regular flour.

Your Problems

Immature Husband Likened To Child—Can't be Changed

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: Last night our small child became violently ill. I asked my husband to go to the store for medicine which the doctor prescribed. His face fell and he moaned. "Something always happens when I want to go to the fights."

Ann Landers

This is typical of him. When I was in a car accident last year and the doctor phoned my husband from the hospital, he was playing poker and he sent my brother. His excuse was the doctor said it was only a broken collarbone and since he was stuck $40 he thought he'd better stay in the game and make the hospital bill.

When my favorite aunt died, he went on a hunting trip and missed the funeral. I was ashamed to attend the funeral without him but I had no choice. Am I too demanding, as he says, or is there something wrong with him? — Bottom Of The List

Dear Bottom: Of course there's something wrong with him — he's immature and flees from responsibility. You're not going to

Louisiana Widow Wins $25,000 for Party Cake

Los Angeles —(U)— Oven magic by a Louisiana widow who says she never bakes quite as well as I know how" Tuesday won her the $25,000 top prize in Pillsbury's 11th Grand National bake-off.

Mrs. Eunice Surles, 4106 Common street, Lake Charles, took the honors with her Mardi gras party cake. An elaborate creation, it highlights melted butterscotch morsels in the batter and filling crowned with a fluff of brown sugar frosting or whipped cream.

Mrs. Surles, 58, received the award from screen star Greer Carson. She said she plans to use the money to improve the modest home where she lives alone.

She discarded her first attempt during the crucial baking session Monday and reluctantly submitted her second effort, saying: "I'm never satisfied with anything I bake and I may have done this better at home. But this will have magic by a Louisiana widow to do."

The 100 contestants received more than $100,000 in prizes, including cost-free trips from their homes and the ranges and mixers they used in competition.

Second grand prize of $5,000 went to Mrs. Joyce S. Anderson, 275 Hillside drive, Orchard Park, N. Y. Her entry was a strips-of-beef casserole. A well-seasoned dish, it contains round steak simmered in tomato sauce flavored with mushrooms and sour cream. The topping is a tender sour biscuit-puff.

Mrs. Anderson, mother of two teen-agers, said she'll use her prize money to buy a sports car for her husband, J. Allan Anderson, and as savings for her children's college expenses.

Other winners were announced Tuesday. There were no winners from Wisconsin.

The shirtwaist is the darling of America, but its popularity doesn't stop here. It has taken Europe by storm, and here Veneziani gives it an Italian flavor. She cuts the bodice on the bias with extra points on one pair of the front and back side pieces to the jauntily at the shoulder. Darts at the waistline give added shape to the skirt which is pleated front and back. Silk, cotton, linen, foulard, rayon mixtures and very lightweight wool are all fine fabrics. One means of holding dinners in cramped quarters for several women to pitch in with food. The main course is served in one apartment, dessert in another and coffee in another. In some cases, furniture is moved out into the aisleways - available corridor to the shoulder. Darts at the waistline give added shape to the skirt which is pleated front and back. Silk, cotton, linen, foulard, rayon mixtures and very lightweight wool are all fine fabrics. From this size chart select the one size for you.

Really bad weather keeps the children mostly inside in the winter. However, giant boulders line the shore of Hudson Bay about a block away. "In summer they play for hours down in those gorgeous rocks," said Mrs. Cochran. "It's just a heavenly place for children to play."

Arab Merchant Sells Any Occasion Scent

Cairo — (U) — How do you like your perfume — to smell, smoke or drink?

Short, fez-wearing Abdel Aziz Aly can supply either kind.

If you're the new bride of an Arabian sheikh, "The Sheikh's Kiss" is made just for you. If you want a smoke that's different, try one of the cigarettes made by mixing amber paste with Turkish tobacco. The smoke perfumes the air while you enjoy exotic puffs. And for the perfume that tastes — try Abdel Aziz Aly's "Elixir of Youth," which is amber with tea or coffee. He explains:

Especially for the Old "Just put a pinpoint of my amber paste on the tip of your tongue and swallow it with hot tea or coffee. It gets into your blood. The effect is enchanting and seductive and gives you a taste of pleasure. I recommend it for older people."

"My amber-paste is an open-sesame to re-enter the gates of youth." Abdel Aziz Aly says his family has been making perfume since 1812, and claims to have secret formulae for mixing the same essences as used by ancient Egyptians—from lotus flowers, amber, sandalwood, musk and spices from the Orient.

His shop is a narrow, rectangular room with maroon curtains hanging from the ceiling. A servant boy switches on the lamp light as you enter. While smoke from a brass

New Cottons, Blends Fashion Dresses for Year'Round Wear

The autumn sun smiles warmly during early fall months, dictating the wear of lightweight fabrics. The dark, transitional cotton—its material suited to the sunny weather and its hue matching seasonal fashion requirements—skillfully blends practicality and style appeal.

The dark tones, inky black, nut brown, north woods green, navy and gray, place no seasonal limit on the frocks, making their wear as appropriate in December as in May. Scarlet, gold, emerald and amber have been selected for some of the frocks in the collection matching the warmth of lazy, Indian summer days.

A fashion classic, shirtwaist, is a favored choice because of its versatility. A perky hat, pearls and white gloves send the frock on a downtown shopping tour, while a bright scarf, colorful jewelry or silver chain belt dress the garment for evening wear.

Gay trimmings have been added to many of the dresses in the fall cotton selection. Bits of braid blind bodice edges, rick-rack adorns the collar, cuffs and hem lines. Novelty buttons add further decorative trim.

The majority of styles are relaxed, comfortable in appearance, as well as flatteringly feminine. Pleated as well as sheath and full skirts are used by designers with the skirt (much shorter) just skimming the knee. Elbow length sleeves or push-up types are used with many of the frocks.

Drip-Dry Blends
Fabric finishes and man-made materials give a functional air to the fashions, sometimes offering a disguise which places every-day fabrics beyond recognition. Blended with cotton are such synthetics as dacron and orlon, giving a fresh, wrinkle-free look, kept bandbox new with a minimum of care. Some have textures approaching wool and silk.

Silk broadcloth, cotton knits and cotton satin and the drip-dry blends in paisley prints, polka dots, plaids and geometric designs have meticulous tailoring and special attention detailing.

One of the newest ways to wear the dark cottons during winter months and cool, fall days is under a boxy-type jumper, which has wide slits along the side seams. Provençal prints serve as the blouse above corduroy and flannel jumpers with the same, gay material peeping out at the hemline.

Some dresses have white lace edged puritan collars and cuffs, others have paisley trim circling the throat. Bonus accessories are the plaid and checked cotton vests to wear with plain-hued frocks, with blouses and wool skirts or with with slack ensembles.

East could not afford to ruff, for then South would discard his losing spade? Hence East discarded the nine of spades, and South ruffed.

Declarer led a spade to dummy's ace and led dummy's last club through East. East had a spade and two trumps, and so did South. Once again East could not afford to ruff for South would simply discard the losing spade.

The trouble was that East couldn't afford to discard either. South had already taken eight tricks, and if East discarded South would make a ninth trick by ruffing.

East could have avoided this dilemma by leading trumps at every opportunity. He should overtake the first diamond and lead a trump. Another defense is to lead spades early. The one thing East could not afford to do was to give South an early diamond ruff.

Head Into Warmup Phase of Campaign

Voters Will Get Full Treatment On Everything From Pocketbook Issue to U. S. Foreign Policy

Washington—(AP)—The American voter apparently is going to get the full treatment on everything from the pocketbook issue to foreign policy in the 1960 presidential campaign.

In the warmup phase of next year's contest for the White House, Sens. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Texas) and Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.) injected international policy into the battle yesterday. Both are regarded as available for their party's top nomination in 1960.

Rising Prices
Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill.) accused an anti-inflation committee headed by Vice President Richard M. Nixon of engaging in propaganda instead of trying to find a cure for rising prices.

Sen. Prescott Bush (R-Conn.), one of President Eisenhower's staunchest supporters, denied this and in turn accused Douglas of bringing politics into a senate-house committee's inquiry into economic conditions.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa.) said "so-called economists" are letting America fall behind in meeting the needs of the people for public services. In a speech at Danville, Pa., he proposed moves to expand the economy, close tax loopholes, curb tax evasion and to cut wasteful expenditures.

Positive Program
In a report to constituents, Sen. Hugh Scott (R-Pa.) quoted Lord Macaulay that "a government which attempts more than it ought will perform less." Scott said President Eisenhower's vetoes, "a militant Republican minority" in

Macmillan Asks Support in Bid For Reelection

Wants to Represent Britain at Summit Talks in Summer

London—(AP)—Prime Minister Macmillan today urged the voters of Lancashire to support his bid to represent Britain at the summit conference which he expects will materialize within the next year.

Campaigning with his wife, Lady Dorothy, Macmillan motored through cotton mill towns with a good luck sprig of white heather tied to the radiator of his car.

The conservative party leader claimed credit for easing east-west tension over Berlin. He said he could go to summit talks with the Russians with one big advantage over his rival, Labor Leader Hugh Gaitskell.

Hopelessly Divided
"I lead a party whose policies are united," Macmillan said. "Mr. Gaitskell would, no doubt, negotiate as well as I shall but his party is hopelessly divided—on the use of foreign bases, on support to NATO, on the H-bomb and on nuclear tests."

Both Macmillan and Gaitskell now have their campaigns for the Oct. 8 national election in high gear.

Gaitskell arranged to address meetings today in four London districts.

In a speech at Bristol last night Gaitskell declared Britain should be represented abroad "by people who believe in the rule of law and elevated to the peerage, in working in peace."

He criticized Macmillan's government for its lukewarm reception of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's total disarmament proposals.

Bevan Review
The pro-labor Daily Herald carried an oddly timed review of the career of Aneurin Bevan, the Welsh orator and critic of the United States who would become foreign secretary if labor captured a majority of the 630 seats in the house of commons.

The article referred to Bevan's former leadership of an insurgent group within the party. Although flattering in tone, this digging into the past seemed hardly helpful to labor's cause in the current campaign.

If the party loses, the Herald said, Bevan may be "pressed inevitably back to his former role of left wing rival to the leader." Such a development would answer a conservative hope of years standing.

Boy Hangs Self After Spanking

St. Charles, Mo.—(AP)—A 12-year-old boy who had been punished by school officials for tardiness and poor school work was found hanging in his back yard Tuesday.

Tony Lewis was found with a length of clothesline wrapped around his neck, a wooden crate lay at his feet.

Tony had been spanked by Principal Paul Maxon Tuesday after being tardy — Maxon said he often was late for school — and for not having his lesson prepared.

The boy sneaked away from school and went home where, his mother said, she told him not to worry and to go out and clean up the yard.

The boy's father, Oliver Lewis, said he believed Tony's death was an accident. He said Tony often played hangman with the clothesline, imitating westerns he saw on television.

Municipal and County Employees Given Right To Organize Unions

Madison—(AP)—Gov. Gaylord Nelson Tuesday signed a bill giving municipal and county employees the right to organize unions and requiring county boards and local units of government to bargain with employee union representatives.

The Wisconsin Towns association, the County Boards association and the League of Wisconsin Municipalities fought the measure in the legislature.

The legislation makes no reference to strikes but extends authority to the Wisconsin Employment Relations board to mediate or arbitrate disputes.

Hungarian Had Helped Hijack Plane to Flee Reds; Won't Talk About Attack

San Francisco—(AP)—A Hungarian who helped hijack a plane to escape to the free world and who spoke against Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's visit here was found beaten and unconscious today.

Ferenc Iszak, 31-year-old president of the Hungarian Freedom Fighters of San Francisco, would say only, "I don't remember anything," after police found him in Golden Gate park.

Officers said he seemed very frightened when he regained consciousness in an ambulance en route to an emergency hospital and feigned inability to speak English.

He was reported in fair condition with multiple head, rib and other injuries.

His wife, Enese, 26, had called police when Iszak went out after a mysterious telephone call and failed to return.

Teacher Beaten, Mother In Jail Because Child Misunderstood Order

New York—(AP)—Because a 7-year-old misunderstood a teacher's instructions, the teacher got a severe beating and the pupil's mother landed in jail.

Seven-year-old Brenda Mackey was 20 minutes late for school yesterday and her teacher, Mrs. Eda Tanne, 40, told her to go to the principal's office for a "late pass."

Instead, Brenda went home crying and said she had been told to get a note from her mother.

The mother, Mrs. Edith Mackey, 25, went to the school and, before the eyes of some 30 second-graders, allegedly attacked Mrs. Tanne, slapping, tearing at the teacher's clothes, then knocking her down and kicking her.

The children's screams brought other teachers who called police. Mrs. Mackey later was held in $1,000 bail on an assault charge.

Khrushchev Goals of Disarmament Must be Looked at Seriously

Herter Addresses U.N. Newsmen After Premier's Ideas on Agenda

United Nations, N. Y.—(AP)—Sec. of State Christian A. Herter said Tuesday that while Nikita Khrushchev's total disarmament plan is propaganda, "the goals set forth must be taken seriously."

The Soviet premier's plan, Herter told a luncheon of the U. N. correspondents association, "requires the closest attention and study."

Herter spoke shortly after the general assembly's 21-nation steering committee unanimously agreed to put Khrushchev's proposal on the agenda of the current session.

Idea Not New
Herter said the complete disarmament idea is not new, nor does the Soviet plan contain any other very novel features. But, he added, the omissions also are important.

The American diplomat said Khrushchev's suggestion of international controls must be explored more fully. The possibility of an international police force to preserve peace will have to be studied if the nations ever agreed on total disarmament, Herter said.

Useless Issue
In response to questions about the Berlin situation, Herter said he believed it would be useless to submit the issue to a summit conference at this time.

He said "more work at the foreign ministers' level or in the area of a general agreement" is required to give any chances of working out an agreement at the summit.

The Soviet position on recognition of Communist East Germany at present "leaves us completely at the mercy of the East Germans" in any talks on West Berlin's future, Herter maintained.

Sticking Point
The Algerian secretary said the threat held over the west by Khrushchev when he made his original statement on Berlin remains, "the major sticking point."

Touching on the Algerian question, Herter said he hopes the U. N. will avoid any action which may hinder a settlement of the dispute along the lines recently proposed by French President Charles de Gaulle.

Herter appeared to rule out U. S. support for a resolution at the present general assembly which would endorse the right of the Algerian people to independence.

Our Children

Children Sometimes Feel Imposed Upon

BY ANGELO PATRI

Children of elementary school age often believe that they are imposed upon by teachers and parents when they are assigned the essential tasks which will help to develop their minds and bodies. Many a time their mothers hear them muttering, "I'm not going to do it for her, the old meanie." "Her" means the teacher. It could mean mother, too.

We cannot expect children of this age to understand and therefore appreciate the service that is rendered them. This they will not be able to do for some years to come and then they won't be able to even then unless they are trained and taught.

Some mothers and nurses make the mistake of teaching the beginner that they eat for their sake or for that of someone they like. Often one hears, "Eat this spoonful for Mother, this one for Grandma," etc. The child begins to think that he is granting a favor when in actuality the favor is on the other side and he is eating, putting on a stocking, taking his medicine and the like essential duties for himself and him alone. Why not tell him so? Why not teach even a little child that he eats, drinks, sleeps, for himself and must always do so?

Poor Attitude

The child who has been persuaded that he does his elders a kindness by obeying them, by accepting their services, is likely to grow up to be the pupil who sulks when his teacher tells him to do over a piece of work, write a composition for homework and the like. He is the one who mutters, "I must do homework just for her."

That attitude will get in his way, act as a barrier between him and his teachers and so be likely to lessen his chances of success. Certainly, it lessens any chance for his enjoyment of school life and in my experience enjoyment of school is essential to full achievement.

This bit of child rearing technique is important to the only child. He is likely to be waited on lavishly by his mother, grandmother and any aunts available. When a mother has a number of children demanding her attention she spreads her service instead of concentrating it on the one and only. That is all to the good on the children's side. They are likely to learn early in their lives to depend upon themselves for whatever service they can give themselves and so are sure to be more self-helpful and more understanding of the necessity for it.

It is wise to start early to

Advertising Drive Started in Britain For Powdered Tea

London —(U)—Some foreign brouder wants to sell the British powdered tea. The biggest advertising campaign in history, the papers say, is aimed at starting the British drinking powdered tea.

But tea, my dear old chap, is not a powder. Comes from leaves. Distinctly remember the old days in India.

Now, says the company trying to sell instant tea, there's going to be a social revolution in Britain, a change in the habits of three centuries of British tea drinking. It says you just take half a spoonful of this dark brown tea powder and stir it in boiling water and you've a cup of instant tea indistinguishable from the genuine article.

What about the pot? Doesn't need a pot. No tea leaves to throw away at the finish and no waste either because you make exactly what you need and don't leave the pot half full.

Milk and sugar, I suppose? Of course. Must hang on to some of the old country's standards.

HIS AND HERS—

BY MURIEL STAFFORD, GRAPHOLOGIST

He says we can talk things over
She invested her savings

Thrifty Boy Friend

"... My boy friend has invested his savings so that he will eventually be self-employed, and claims he needs a wife like me who would help him achieve his ambition. I enclose a sample of his writing."

Yes, he undoubtedly has every item worked out to the minutest detail. His tiny-lettered, angular, cramped script reveals a thrifty, analytical mind that gets right down to brass tacks.

He is a tireless worker, willing to scrimp and save to achieve his ambition. With his nose so firmly to the grindstone, he would almost surely be a faithful husband. He may even become wealthy, as the result of hard work and thrift.

You must realize, however, that he will expect you to devote your life to furthering his ambitions just as completely and thoroughly as he plans to do himself.

Marriage needs to be a true partnership, not merely a means to an end. You want a loving, considerate husband just as much as he wants a thrifty, industrious wife.

City Gets Second Offer of Land for Future School Site

Lawrence P. Ertl, route 4, Appleton, has offered to sell all or part of nine acres he owns at the southeast corner of the city for an elementary school site.

The tract is east of E. John street and north of Calumet street, near the property of 1963, or sooner.

which Joseph Whitmann once offered the city and subsequently withdrew.

Ertl says, in a letter filed with City Clerk Bruehm, that he will sell seven of the nine acres for $2,500 an acre, or the nine acres, including a home, for $24,000.

The board of education has projected a need for an elementary school along the east-ern limits sometime about 1963, or sooner.

Mr. Khrushchev did not notice the young man who stood holding a sign which read intemperately: "The only good communist is a dead one."

Wallace Lambasted

It was a broad swipe at Henry Wallace, former vice president of the United States. The implication was that a Wallaceite is something like a hemi-demi-semi-communist and a subversive.

The young man was not popular in the crowd.

Mr. Khrushchev looked tired. So did virtually every member of his large entourage. His daughter, Rada, bears a strong resemblance in profile to her father. She is pretty nonetheless. She wore her hair pulled back firmly and rolled into a pug. Almost any young American would be proud to have so pretty a girl as a date.

Henry Cabot Lodge turned to one of the local committee members and whispered, "Have them show him some swimming pools." When the elevator doors swallowed "Mr. K." as lowans are calling him with some endearment, the young man with the sign came in for a share of attention. "You're a nut," said a matronly woman. "They ought to hang you in a tree."

Taunter Frightened

"What's your name, anyhow?" he said, grinning. "It isn't Robert Oppenheimer?"

Some one in the crowd jostled him and there was fright in his eyes. Beads of perspiration jumped to his forehead and his upper lip. But he clung to his sign. His hands trembled.

A teenaged boy said, "Signs like that may cause us to get in a war."

The sign holder said that if signs were to cause a war, the war would happen anyhow. "You should be glad you live in America," said a middle-aged man. "Over there they wouldn't let you do this."

"I am proud to live here," said the sign holder. "But what you said doesn't mean it's no good here. It just means that it's so bad there."

Well-Dressed Youth

"You're an exhibitionist," said another man. "You like to have your picture in the paper. The trouble of it is that things like this can hurt us all. You ought to think of that."

"I am for the constitution of the United States and for American liberty," said the sign holder.

He was well dressed, handsome, he spoke in cultured

Wrong Way on Divided Road Arrests Rise

Although there have been a few arrests for driving the wrong way on a divided highway, four motorists were haled into municipal court Tuesday by state police on the charge. With Highway 41 slated to be opened for most of its 4-lane width in Outagamie county soon, state police cautioned drivers to stay in the right lane on the divided portions.

The offense costs drivers two points against their driving record, but more serious is the hazard of a head-on collision, police warned.

Convicted in municipal court on the wrong-way charge Tuesday were Virgil M. West, 18, Chicago; Walter W. Wecker, 62, Algoma; and Edward J. Van Drisse, 57, Green Bay, all fined $25 each, and Frank W. Kuehl, 66, of 266 Oak street, Menasha, $10 fine.

Denies Drunken Driving Charge

Raymond Van Asten, 34, of 216 E. Ninth street, Kaukauna, Tuesday in municipal court denied a charge of drunken driving and was jailed when he failed to post $100.00 bond for trial Dec. 1. Van Asten also was fined $25 for driving 75 miles an hour on Highway 41 between half a mile south of the Brown county line and County Trunk J about 9 p.m. Saturday. The offense will cost him six points against his driving record.

Van Asten refused to take the drunkometer test.

Betz Says Reds Show Indifference Of USSR in Laos

An appraisal of red China indicates they are making strides toward establishment of a powerful nation, a nation the United States must reckon with sometime in the future, Air Force Col. Albert Betz told Appleton Rotarians Tuesday.

Col. Betz, professor of air science at Lawrence college, served as air attache in Formosa and was in Peiping when the red Chinese government took over the China mainland.

He said red Chinese propaganda on the "liberation" of Air Force Col. Albert Betz, professor of air science at Lawrence college, spoke to Appleton Rotarians on China Tuesday. Col. Betz was air attache to Formosa for three years. He will be first lecturer in a series sponsored by the women's auxiliary of All Saints' Episcopal church at 10 a.m. Thursday at the church.

Formosa indicates they will make a probe in our direction similar to moves such as the shelling of Quemoy. "The United States interest in Formosa has changed from a strategic one during the Korean conflict to a strategic-political interest today. If for any reason we had to stop aid to Formosa we would scuttle our entire far eastern policy. We would lose the allies we have and alienate neutral countries, such as India."

Trouble in Laos Col. Betz noted the conflict in Laos is red China's way of reasserting its individuality from Russia and objecting to the omission of the red government from summit discussions.

"The fact that the uprising corresponds so closely with Khrushchev's visit is not completely an accident," he said. "Recognizing the red Chinese government would put the United States in a difficult position," he said. "At the summit conferences after World War II it was decided all lands taken from governments were to be returned to the original owner. This would have given Formosa to the Chinese Nationalists."

Cause Conflict "The actual peace treaty with the Japanese was not signed until 1951, however, and by that time the Nationalists had been thrown off the mainland by the communists. Recognizing them as the owners of Formosa, even though the Chinese Nationalists signed a treaty with Japan that gave them the island," he said.

"This in turn would cause a conflict between red China and the United States. It would be difficult to back out of such a conflict because in doing so we would alienate members of the Southeast Asia Treaty organization."

"We can expect to see many more headlines about problems arising out of red China," he concluded.

Three Men Fined for Public Intoxication

Three men have been fined in municipal court for public intoxication.

Donald Sturm, 22, of 519 S. Bounds street, was fined $10 after he admitted causing a disturbance in the Super Burger, 100 W. College avenue, Sunday evening.

Robert W. Fisher, Jr., 20, of 1412 S. Kernan avenue, was fined $15 after he admitted causing a disturbance in the Spudnut restaurant, 347 W. College avenue, early Sunday morning.

Thomas W. Britten, 50, of 317 N. Appleton street, was fined $10 after he admitted being intoxicated on the street in the 300 block of W. College avenue Saturday.

Hunter Fined

Elroy Thoma, 23, Clintonville, was fined $35 and his hunting license was revoked a year when he admitted Tuesday that he hunted for pheasant in the town of Maine Friday.

Order Good Behavior

3 Youths Sentenced For Fight, Wild Chase

Three of four youths who led police on a wild chase and ended their spree with a Bear Creek street fight Sept. 11 were sentenced to varying terms and the fourth was released to join the service Tuesday.

Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmiede, who a week ago lashed the youths and told them the court would "crack down so hard you'll wish you never were involved in these things," made continued good behavior a condition of two youths' probation.

The youths are Gene R. Adams, 22, Iola; Bernard L. Poole, 20, route 1, New London, and Gordon E. Palmer, Broad street, and Richard E. Hansen, 20, 1102 1/2 N. Division street, both of New London.

Adams was placed on probation for a year and ordered not to associate with the other youths. Poole was placed on probation for a year after the court withheld sentence and was told he could use his car only to drive to and from work and with his father or mother present. He was ordered to stay out of taverns and not to drink when driving, no matter who accompanied him.

Hansen was fined $100. Palmer's sentence was ordered to reappear in court in two weeks unless he joins the service.

A fifth youth, 16, has been processed in Waupaca juvenile court.

Palmer, Hansen and Poole earlier were fined $20 each for being in a tavern as minors. The two owners of the Shiocton bar in which the quartet was taken into custody later were fined in Judge Schmiede's court for allowing the youths in their bar.

Chase Street Fight

The youths were charged after a high-speed chase in Waupaca county during which they threw out a case and bottles of beer. Waupaca county police gave up the chase for fear that the youths' car would crash into another car.

The youths started a fight in a Bear Creek restaurant which spread into the street outside and included wounding of a jack handle by one of the youths. A bloody victim was one of the youths brought into the county jail early the morning of Sept. 12.

Outagamie county Sheriff's Lt. Jack Frenz and county police found the youths in the Shiocton bar and took them into custody without incident.

whole petite tomatoes, and laughter.

This was the extent of his spontaneous performance for the evening—not up to his previous ones on the other stops of his tour. When he walked away from the table to leave the hall, his step was slow, and tired-looking.

A tough schedule still lay ahead. Khrushchev, after long hours at the Garst farm, was to go directly to Ames, then return to Des Moines and prepare to take off early in the evening for Pittsburgh and another tough schedule.

How Do You Flunk?

Miami, Fla. —(AP)— Now there's a college course in musical comedy acting and singing. It's offered by the University of Miami which regards musical comedy as a "distinctive American art form." The instructor is Ladislav Valda, a former opera singer who doesn't think his old profession offers many career opportunities to young Americans.

Mild Speech

A change in schedule had been suggested so that he could get out early and see more of the details of Iowa farm life before leaving later in the day for Iowa State university at Ames.

For Khrushchev, the speech delivered to the civic dinner was the most mild of pronouncements in comparison with his other blasts along the route of his American tour.

He called upon Americans to enter into competition with Russians in agriculture, instead of in the manufacture of weapons of mass production.

Khrushchev assured his audience that his proposal for complete disarmament, placed before the United Nations General assembly Friday, was aimed solely at securing a lasting peace among nations.

If he had accusations against Americans, they were mild, without the familiar Khrushchev punch. There are some newspapers, he said, and some persons in the United States who consider the Soviet 7-year plan "as a kind of threat, a threat of Soviet economic offensive, a Soviet economic menace."

Economic Race No Threat

Then he added: "But the question is, what kind of menace, and to whom, can be our desire to increase our agricultural production, for instance?"

"What is wrong about our wanting to compete with you, for instance, in the production of corn, meat or milk? Hardly anyone would contend that the consumption of more milk, butter and meat would make the Soviet people aggressive."

The remarks brought spontaneous applause from the audience. Khrushchev went on:

"This competition is more useful than the race to stockpile hydrogen bombs. . . . We want the fields to be furrowed by peaceful plows and not by rockets and tank tracks."

There was little querulousness in the speech, little of the spirit of protracted argument which had been going on elsewhere during the tour. Some watchers got the impression Khrushchev was too tired to be argumentative.

Acts as Happy Guest

In addition, Khrushchev obviously has considered Iowa one of the most important stops on his tour. He is passionately interested in its agriculture, particularly its corn. What he learns here might eventually solve some troublesome food production problems which have bedeviled the Soviet regime for years.

If Khrushchev was quiet, considering his past performances, his manner was that of a guest who hardly could have been happier to be where he was at the moment.

When he smiled, it was a broad and amiable smile. At times he interrupted with good natured comment which was taken in just that spirit by his audience. There was not a spark of menace in the picture he presented.

Frank DeLuydt, president of the Greater Des Moines Chamber of Commerce, one of the dinner speakers, was introducing some of the honor guests when Khrushchev interrupted. The speaker had introduced one of the Soviet party—Vasily Yemelyanov.

Farm Competition

He is a metallurgist who holds an important post in the direction of Soviet atomic energy.

"And richer than anyone present here in Iowa," added Khrushchev.

It brought a big laugh. When DeLuydt said Iowans would welcome agricultural competition with the Soviet Union, Khrushchev broke into quick applause.

At another point, during an address by Des Moines Mayor Charles F. Iles, Khrushchev interrupted to say:

"In our country, sometimes, when distinguished guests come and visit in some of the cities, they clean the streets especially for them."

The mayor replied, "I think we will have to plead guilty," and Khrushchev threw back struck Simpson in the stomach.

As Nencki bent over the fallen man, Simpson shot the sergeant in the stomach and throat. Friday rushed up and emptied his gun into Simpson. Nencki was in critical condition.

Simpson was a part time employe in a park across the street from the Fink home. Fellow workers called him "The Preacher." As he arrived for work Tuesday, detectives, acting on a neighbor's tip, questioned him briefly. Police said after Simpson's death they had planned to question him again Tuesday night.

Talks Religion

Nencki and Friday were called by several residents who told of a Negro going from house to house wanting to talk religion, but only to women.

At the Harvey Nordum

Wednesday, Sept. 23, 1959 Appleton Post-Crescent A22

home, Simpson asked, "Is the woman home?" He left when told she was not. Nordum called police.

Simpson was given a similar answer at the John Heinrich home. The family's 18-year-old daughter, Mary Ann, also called police.

Denied Admittance

Simpson called next at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Vick. The husband answered the door to be met by the question, "Is the lady of the house in?"

Mrs. Vick stepped to the door with her children, Michael, 5, and Cynthia, 3. The man smiled.

"I'm afraid," Mrs. Vick told him. "Do you blame me after what happened in this neighborhood?" The man smiled again and said, "Don't be afraid."

When Simpson asked if he could enter the house, Vick said, "No", and shut the door.

Next Simpson went to the home of Abe Hansher and said he wanted to talk to the lady of the house, "because I'm from the gospel."

It was there that Sgt. Nencki caught up with him. Simpson pulled his gun and backed the officer against a

3 Misspelled Words Free Woman

Albuquerque, N. M. —(AP)—

U.S. Dist. Judge Carl A. Hatch has dismissed a grand jury indictment against an Albuquerque woman because three words in the document were not capitalized.

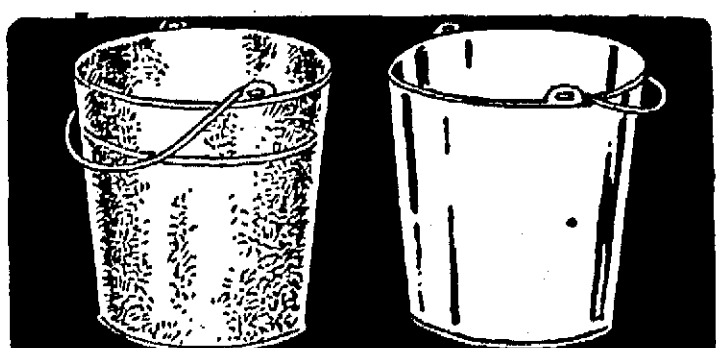

The federal grand jury indictment charged Mrs. Dorothy Ann Lloyd, 28, embezzled $3,053 during 1958 from a nursery school and kindergarten.

Hatch ruled in favor of defense attorneys who argued the indictment was faulty because first letters in the words "nursery school" and "kindergarten" were not capitalized. Assistant U.S. Atty. Joseph Ryan said Tuesday the case would be presented to another grand jury.

There was no indication as to why importance was placed on capitalization of the words.

Storm Sewer Project Slowed By Rock Shelf

Curb, Gutter Job on Sullivan Avenue to Start in October

Kaukauna — City crews have run into difficulty with the Fifth ward storm sewer installation project after running into a shelf of limestone or river rock adjacent to the city ball park.

About one-third of the project has been completed with an additional 800 feet of 18-inch storm sewer to be installed. Robert Natrop, city engineer, estimates the rock shelf to be about 100 feet long.

Crews are being forced to dynamite to break through the rock. The new sewer will drain into Konkapot creek from the Beaulieu hill area.

Curb and gutter The engineer has received word from the contractor, the curb and gutter installation on Sullivan avenue will get underway the first or second week in October. Since only a short area is to be furnished with curb and gutter, the engineer expects the project to be completed within a few days.

Sidewalk installation projects were to have started Tuesday but will be delayed slightly by the heavy rains.

America Gets Friendship Pat

Red Press Going All Out to Give Warm Accounts

Moscow — America is getting the full friendship treatment in Soviet newspapering the arrival of a U.S. mili-

Wednesday, Sept. 23, 1959 Appleton Post-Crescent A24

pers and on radio and television. Nothing like it has been seen here in recent years. Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's visit to the United States has really thawed the air in Moscow. The Russian press has blown hot before only to blow cold again later. But a sample of how warm it can get came in a brief Tass dispatch reporting the arrival of a U.S. military delegation in the Iranian capital of Tehran.

In the past this might be an occasion for reviving charges of aggression by the United States on the Soviet Union's southern borders. But this dispatch contained not one critical adjective.

Daily Programs

Moscow radio is carrying programs of American music and translations from American literature several times a day.

The children's morning hour today began with a Russian singing a translation of Stephen Foster's "Way Down Upon the Swanee River." Other American and Russian songs followed. A story called "My American Friend Sandy" by a Russian children's writer also was read.

Friday there was a radio recitation of Longfellow's "Hawthorne." Selections followed from O. Henry and Mark Twain. TV viewers saw Walt Disney cartoons, accompanied by an explanation of his animation techniques.

Horse Show Set For Saturday After Rainout

Post-Crescent News Service Saturday, Sept. 26, has been named the new date for a western horse show, rained out Sunday afternoon.

Although skies cleared Sunday noon, steady rain in the morning forced postponement of the show due to muddy conditions at Melvin G. Leitzke's ranch on Highway 41 west of County Trunk A.

The same full program of 12 events will get underway at 1 p.m. Sept. 26, weather permitting. The show, open to all riders with entries due by 12:30 p.m., is open to the public with no admission fee.

A grand championship ribbon will be awarded to the contestant scoring the highest number of points. There also will be a trophy and three ribbon awards in each event.

Red Cross at Neenah Names Five Directors

Activities of Last Year Told At Annual Meeting

Neenah — Five directors were elected at the annual meeting of the Neenah Red Cross chapter Tuesday night at the Neenah club. The directors will meet soon to name chapter officers.

Chosen from among 10 candidates were Gerald Aldridge, administrator of Theda Clark Memorial hospital; Gilbert Bayley, vice chairman of the blood bank; Mrs. Ann Hedges, chairman of volunteer services; Don Hruska, 1959 fund drive chairman; and Wayne Long, blood bank chairman.

The 65 persons at the meeting were served a dinner that can be easily prepared for disaster feeding. This included beef stew, tomatoes, rolls, coffee and a torte made with a cake mix.

Frank Hochholzer, chapter vice chairman, reported on the national Red Cross convention he attended in June and a film was shown on "Rescue Breathing."

Robert W. Wood, chapter chairman, reviewed the activities of the last year. The report of Mrs. Jessie K. Clark, home service chairman, pointed out there is an average of 16 cases a month with a total of $1,280 given in grants.

Volunteer Service

Volunteer service work was reviewed by Mrs. Hedges in her report with the volunteers working a total of 1,182 hours for the blood bank and 4,100 hours for social welfare aides.

The report of the Gray Lady chairman, Mrs. Hattie Herriott, told of the work done by these women and also by the men at the Winnebago State hospital. Blood bank work was reviewed by Wayne Long, who took over as chairman upon the resignation of the late Leon H. Tolversen.

A total of 621 pints was collected on three visits against a quota of 720 pints. William Dunwiddie submitted a report on the disaster plan preparations while other reports were those of Al Goerlitz, first aid chairman; Mrs. Theresa Malotte, home nursing chairman; George Christoph, water safety chairman; and Harold B. Mennes, Junior Red Cross chairman.

Christoph's report showed the swimming instruction program had increased 45 per cent over the previous year with a total of 27,528 children counted for instruction between June 15 and Aug. 14.

Hospital Head Tells Reason for Red Cross

Aldridge Outlines Services by National, Local Chapters in Talk

Neenah — "Why Red Cross?" was asked by Gerald W. Aldridge, Theda Clark Memorial hospital administrator, in his talk at the annual meeting of the Neenah Red Cross chapter Tuesday evening at the Neenah club, and then answered that neighbor helping neighbor has always been a guiding principle in American life.

"The neighbor helping neighbor principle is the fundamental reason that the American National Red Cross is one of the greatest humanitarian organizations in the history of the world. It is made up of 3,700 local chapters across the land."

He outlined the various services of the organization in the community and to the country. The local chapter handles home service, first aid, swimming instruction, Gray Ladies and blood collections while the national organization's responsibilities include administration, services to the armed forces, disaster relief and rehabilitation.

Armed Services Work. He cited the operations of Red Cross with the armed services which accounts for a third of each year's Red Cross budget. Through its 50 regional blood centers, the Red Cross provides approximately 38 per cent of the blood for whole blood transfusions in United States hospitals.

"The growth of our population has an important bearing on the services provided by the Red Cross in first aid, water safety and home nursing. In all of our communities across the land the Red Cross faces a continual expansion in these programs so essential in conserving our human resources," Aldridge mentioned.

The Red Cross belongs to the American people and cannot be successful without the personal touch, he stressed.

POST CRESCENT News of the Twin Cities Neenah - Menasha

Ceremony to be on Main Street Overhead at Neenah Saturday

Neenah — Highway 41 around Neenah and north to Outagamie county will be opened after a ribbon-cutting ceremony at 2:30 p. m. Saturday.

Sen. Alexander Wiley will be main speaker at the opening ceremony, which will be held atop the Main street overhead. Cars may approach the overhead from the north and south approaches.

The ribbon will be cut by Harold L. Plummer, chairman of the state highway commission. Also present will be L. W.

Empey, engineer for the Green Bay district of the state highway department, State Sen. William A. Draheim and Assemblyman Arnold J. Cane.

City and county officials will be among the honored guests at the program being planned by the health and safety committee of the Neenah-Menasha Chamber of Commerce and the county highway committee.

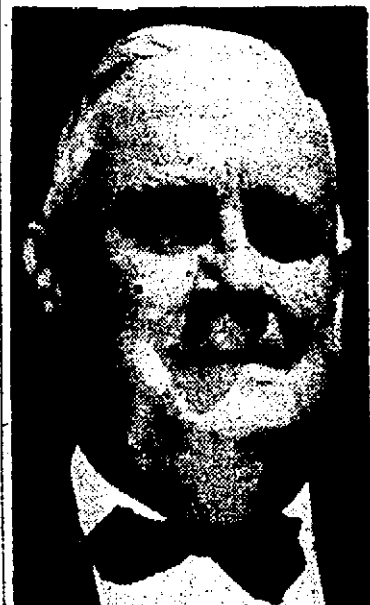

Traffic on the new 4-lane bypass with its grade separations at every intersecting street will be allowed to use the road immediately after the ribbon cutting ceremony. Members of the sheriff's department will handle the traffic.

The Neenah bypass begins south of Cecil street with a 4-lane road, curving to the west. It rejoins the present Highway 41 at the top of the present viaduct over the Soo line tracks north of Highway 150.

The divided 4-lane section continues on north to Highway 10 northwest of Appleton. Opening of this section leaves only three 2-lane sections of the highway in Winnebago county and plans are underway for making these 4-lane roads within several years.

One of these is the section from the south end of the Neenah bypass near Cecil street southwest to the Highway 45 interchange at Brooks corners. Another is the portion from Highway 26, the Waupun road, south to Fond du Lac county.

The third is the small stretch over Lake Butte des Morts, now served by the present 2-lane bridge. The highway divides into four lanes again at each end of the bridge.

Sen. Alexander Wiley

Permit Issued for $22,000 Home

Neenah — A permit for a $22,000 home to be erected on Chatham court by Triple A Lumber company raises the total of new home permits this year to 134, five less than at this time last year.

The house will be two stories high and 26 by 40 feet in size. In addition there will be a 23 by 24 foot garage.

Home Nursing Class Needs More Adults

Unable to Start Vocational Session Due to Enrollment

Neenah — The Red Cross Home Nursing classes at the Vocational and Adult school are unable to start until there is sufficient enrollment, Mrs. Irma Kyle, homemaker coordinator, announced today.

The home nursing and care of the sick and injured course is scheduled to meet for 7 weeks on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings and Wednesday morning. The Wednesday classes are only about half filled, Mrs. Kyle said.

Classes are organized in cooperation with the Neenah chapter of the Red Cross as a community and Civil Defense service. Two of the seven class meetings are devoted to home nursing in disaster situations as part of the Civil Defense activities of the Red Cross.

No Course Charge

In the past 3 years over 105 persons have enrolled in the courses. As soon as 10 to 14 more register the classes will be ready to start, Mrs. Kyle explained. The courses are offered without charge except for the cost of the textbook.

Several adult classes in homemaking also have openings. Classes began this week but anyone interested in enrolling can do so this week and enter classes next week.

Other classes which have several openings include fur restyling, millinery, decorative painting and rosemaking, knitting, machine tailoring, home tailoring of suits and coats, blouses, skirts and basic dresses.

Most of the Structural Steel has been erected at Menasha's new Sixth street elementary school. Outside finish brick is being laid for walls at the same time. The project had been delayed by short steel supplies. The contracts for the new school and for remodeling and converting Butte des Morts school into a junior high, totaling $571,520, were awarded early in May. The new school is to be ready for use by September 1960, according to the contract.

Man Faces Bigamy Charge

Winnebago Sheriff Holds Forest Moss For Investigation

Oshkosh — Forest Moss, 57, who gave his address as 1428 N. Fourteenth street, Sheboygan, is being held by the Winnebago county sheriff's department for investigation on charges of bigamy and operating an automobile while his license was suspended.

Moss, arrested at Winnebago Saturday night when a Winnebago merchant became suspicious after cashing two $100 checks for him, was driving a 1959 auto listed to Al Rudolf Motors, Appleton, when picked up.

A check with the dealer showed the vehicle had been used by a Delbert MowShay on a trial basis. MowShay is an alias used by Moss, police said. After his arrest, Moss

Pleads Innocent of Arterial Violation

Menasha — Delman Ruesch, 30, 753 Appleton street, pleaded innocent to an arterial violation charge before Police Justice Arthur P. Ales this morning.

Ruesch was arrested Sunday after he was noted going through the arterial at the intersection of Ninth and De Pere streets.

"Justice Ales set the court case for Oct. 7.

Used License

At that time, Moss was using a license issued to a Charles Brandon. Moss said he had obtained the car he was driving then from Brandon in Nebraska in default of payment of a loan. He said he had found Brandon's driver's license in the car and had been using that name while operating the vehicle.

Moss' wife, Kathryn, 43, who also is being held for bigamy, told county police she was divorced from Clifford Leach, town of Menasha, in Winnebago county court and had been granted custody of the couple's minor children in March of 1957.

Mexican Marriage

She said she accompanied Moss to Mexico and engaged in a Mexican ceremony and that they were remarried by a judge at Grand Island, Neb., in June of 1958. The woman said that since leaving Nebraska they had traveled in Illinois and Wisconsin and resided in Oshkosh, Neenah, Rhinelander, Manitowoc, Sheboygan and presently were living at Hortonville.

Mrs. Moss said she knew Moss was still married to his former wife, Adele Moss, Clintonville. The Mosses were married at Clintonville, on Oct. 30, 1953, and separated four years later.

Moss, after questioning, suffered what seemed to be a heart attack and was taken to Mercy hospital where he was held overnight under guard. Mrs. Moss was remanded to the county jail. The FBI has been notified.

8-Year Case Ends in Japan

Hiroshima, Japan — (U-P) Farmer Sobei Hayakawa and his wife were murdered eight years ago at their home near Iwakuni in western Japan. They were robbed of $44.44.

Police arrested five men shortly thereafter, charged them with the crime and since then the case has been in and out of court. Judges made money on it, defense attorneys made money on it and a hit movie based on the plot brought even more yen.

In the course of years, the chief defense counsel wrote two best sellers attacking the judges and the prosecution. One of the judges hit back at the defense with two best sellers of his own.

The final chapter apparently was written today when the Hiroshima appeals court freed four of the defendants on grounds that confessions were forced from them.

One of the four had twice been sentenced to death. The other three were first sentenced to life terms and then reduced to 12 to 15 years imprisonment in the second trial.

The only loser besides the murdered couple was the fifth defendant. He didn't wait for a second trial and accepted the life term outright.

Psychiatric Check for American Who Tried to Renounce Citizenship

Valley Stream, N. Y. — (U-P) Nicholas Petrulli, who came home from Russia after trying to renounce his American citizenship, plans to enter a hospital for a psychiatric checkup.

Petrulli's lawyer, Seymour Morgenroth, said after Petrulli's arrival yesterday from the Soviet Union: "He's still a little mixed up."

Morgenroth said Petrulli previously had been under psychiatric care and had been given a medical discharge from the air force. The U. S. state department authorized his return home on grounds that his application for Soviet citizenship was not a legally competent act.

Fur's the Thing for Fashions

Neenah — Wild animals aren't the only ones wearing their fur these days, as any fashion-conscious woman can testify. Fur trimmed sweaters, suits, coats, fur lined jackets, hats, muffs and every imaginable article of clothing enhanced with sleek fur all have created a huge market in the fashion world.

Bulky sweaters with pert raccoon collars are a part of any college girls wardrobe, perfect for football games. They look as well with skirts as with slim, tapered slacks for casual wear. Also for sporty wear, poplin coats are topped with the large raccoon collars that often may be detached and added to a suit or jacket. Natural, taupe and Loden green are the most popular colors for the new styles embellished with fur.

Because of the mass popularity of fur, imitations have been created for the budget-minded career girl. Only the look is expensive.

Fur-lined Jacket

Sophisticates may prefer a wool suit with the jacket lined with soft-white baby lamb. For evening wear, a cardigan swathed with lustrous silver fox collar will make any evening gown more eye-catching. The furry coat also makes a fetching hat for the high-fashion female.

Country clothes can be devastating with high-keyed looks this fall. Choose a suede jacket, with civet-patterned rabbit lining. For cold weather and casual wear fur lined walking boots or completely fur shoe-boots are just the thing.

Fashion experts assure us that a very real "fur furor" is sweeping the world of women's clothes. New and dashing pelts such as snow leopard, guanaco and civet, have less-than-exotic price tags but definitely the exciting appeal.

Meyer included a 228 game in his leading triple while Sorenson closed with a 618 total.

Other honor totals included 231-603 by Len Neubauer, Joe Coenen 561 and Louis Mittlestead 566.

The Hoerning's team holds first with an 8-1 record with a 1-game edge over Ed and Woody's and Larson Tavern.

No honor totals were bowled in the Tuesday Night Ladies Handicap loop at Lake-road. Larson Point is the leader, after two weeks of play, with a 4-0 record. Pantton's has 5-1.

Use Extreme Caution, County Warden Warns

Dunham Reports That Youngsters Under 16 Do Not Need Duck Stamp; Car Deer Kill Up

Menasha — Take extreme caution in handling firearms, Al Dunham, county conservation warden, told members of the Twin City Rod and Gun club at its meeting Tuesday night at Germania hall.

With the approach of the waterfowl hunting season, Dunham again reminded the sportsmen not to take any chances and that guns have to be carried and unloaded when carried in a car.

"The warden declared that youngsters don't need duck stamps until they are 16. He added that this year there have been about a dozen in the 12, 13, and 14 age group who have bought the stamp, found out they didn't need them and attempted to redeem them. He explained that the money cannot be refunded.

On waterfowl, the speaker reminded the hunting day is from sunrise to sunset with a bag limit of three and possession limit of six. If in doubt on any question, contact the warden or Oshkosh office, Dunham said.

Asked the perennial question as to what determines natural cover, the warden told the hunters to use good judgment and that the book states "wholly or partial concealment" which is about 50, 60 or 70 spears of grass.

Fawns Killed

With the moving of the deer from the cornfield to the swamp, the car kill is on the increase. Dunham said there have been twice as many killed as last year with the greatest number between Fremont and Tustin. Most of the casualties have been fawns although one was an 8-point buck.

As for the pheasant crop, Dunham reported that the crop is low, even in the good pheasant areas. The bad winter and fox were given as the major reasons.

Work on Range

Club members are working on the proposed shooting range on their 20 acres of land in Outagamie county. The grass has been mowed and club members will gather there between 5 and 7 p.m. next Monday to work on reinforcing the bridge. Construction of shooting tables also is underway.

The club's final trap shooting session will be held Sunday at Stroebe's Island. Possibility of sponsoring an ice fishing derby to raise club funds also was mentioned.

The First men's national honor count of the year, a 704, was rolled by Bob Hogan in the Twin City Industrial league at Midtown alleys.

Karow Rolls 581 Total in 'Industrial'

Menasha — Robert Voissem totaled a 232 game and Clarence Karow recorded a 581 series for the top scores in the Twin City Men's Industrial Bowling league Tuesday night at the Mid-Town alleys.

Pete Jentz collected a 572 triple while Don Wilentz added a 559 and Ben Stepanski tallied 550.

Wisconsin Tissue Mills and Gilbert Paper are tied for first place with 28 Petersen points. Three other teams are one point away, four more are two off the pace and another quartet just three points away.

Macs Organize Cribbage Loop

Menasha — The Menasha Athletic association's cribbage league will organize for the 1959-60 season at a meeting at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the club tavern.

All of last year's teams planning to enter again are to have a representative at the Service, Main Office and River meeting. Mac officials report, or Street Plant 4-6, Neenah and new teams also are welcome.

The meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 1, at the Recreation building. Attending will be interested sponsors, new managers of last year's teams and officers.

Plans for the coming season, rules and other league information will be discussed at that time.

The league plays from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. every Thursday

Yearling Grid Squads Launch 1959 Seasons

NHS Entertains Kaukauna; Jays Vie With Wilson

Neenah — The Neenah and Menasha freshman football squads kick off their schedules against usually-formidable foes Thursday afternoon.

Neenah entertains Kaukauna in a 4 p.m. contest while Menasha treks to Appleton to take on Wilson Junior High school.

The Rockets go into the season as defending league champs. They won five straight games for their initial crown last fall.

Neenah begins the season with a new set of coaches, Jake Stoesz and Jack Reaue. They succeed Charlie Shepard and Ken Anderson, mentors for the last four or five years.

Most of last year's Rocket squad is now up with the varsity with the exception of full-back Joe Began, regular as an eighth grader last year, and several others who also were on the roster.

The Red and White chalked up an 18-0 win in last year's meeting.

Menasha, winless in five games last fall, attempts to get on the winning trail against the club which blanked it 28-0 a year ago.

Coach Lucian Gajewski is back at the helm, assisted by Emmett Boyce. The Bluejays have several boys who were on the squad last year, including "Rocky" Gmeiner and Bob Klapper, who will be the starting halfbacks. Gmeiner was a guard and Klapper, an end, a year ago.

2 Lead Upper Loop Hitters

Miller, Sturgis Notch .536 Marks in Neenah League

Neenah — The leading batting average in the lower division of the Neenah Church Softball league was .536 and it was posted by two hitters.

Harry Miller of division champion Methodist and Harry Sturgis of Trinity both collected that mark on 15 hits in 28 trips to the plate.

A minimum of 20 times at bat was used in figuring the statistics and many players were up fewer times mainly because their teams were involved in several forfeits.

Other leading totals included Charles Schultz, Martin Luther .370; Bob Williams, Trinity .364; Lyle Olson, Martin Luther, .320; Bruce Landsverk, Martin Luther, .308; and John Krueger, Methodist, .300.

The best pitching marks included Doug Wiatrowski, Methodist, 6-1, and "Gib" Mitchell, St. Mark, and Dan Haufe, Trinity, 3-2.

Research Plays Shipping '9' in Marathon Finale

Menasha — Research and Development plays Central Shipping at 5:15 p.m. today at Jefferson park in the final regularly-scheduled contest in the Marathon Men's Softball league.

For Research, the game will be a warmup for this weekend's championship game against Carton Michle. Research won the first half crown and Michle, the second. The teams will square off at 6 p.m. Friday at Jefferson park.

After tonight's game, all teams, except Industrial Relations and Neenah Plant, will have played their 10 second round games. The Relations-Neenah Plant game was rained out in the third inning earlier this month.

Records are Carton Michle 10-0, Industrial Relations 7-2, Research 6-3, Carton Press, Neenah General Office, and Carton Finishing 5-5. Office have a representative at the Service, Main Office and River meeting. Mac officials report, or Street Plant 4-6, Neenah and new teams also are welcome.

Haase and Drews won last year's overall league and men's championship and Stecker's topped the women. At the close of the season, team and mixed doubles tournaments are held with an award dinner in April concluding the year's activities.

Annexation of 400 Lots Coming Soon

Would Extend Appleton Limits Half Mile Eastward Nearly to Kimberly Boundary

Annexation of some 400 residential building lots between Appleton and Kimberly on the south side of the Fox river appears certain before the end of the year.

Representatives of Land Associates, Inc., a group of Appleton contractors who own the 129 acres involved, told the board of public works Tuesday they are ready to petition formally for annexation to the city.

C. O. Baetz, whose land is between the city and the contractors' holdings, has agreed to go along and will furnish easements for sewer and water services, the representatives said.

The annexation would extend the city limits a half mile eastward, nearly to the village limits.

Annexation of the tract, the representatives were told when they inquired earlier this year, would depend on whether the land included a strip on the south side of County Trunk Z.

Cites Assessments

The city wants the south side of the road, it was explained, so that special assessments for street improvements can be made against both sides of the street. The city cannot assess property owners whose land is not in the city.

Tuesday, board members repeated their demand for inclusion of the strip along the county trunk.

With Baetz going along with the contractors, it will be possible, City Atty. Jury told them, to include the other side of Z in the petition. The petition would not suffer because of opposition, he said, because the opponents would be in numerical and land minority.

In 1961

Public Works Engineer Henry Crowe told the contractors the city will be able to extend sewer and water services to the land in 1961. Local sewer service will depend on an interceptor which will be constructed along the river shore, he said.

Final sewer plans should be ready by December, Crowe said. They were ready once, he reported, but are being revised because Director of Public Works Duszynski wants to serve a larger area at the University of Wisconsin extension center.

The sewer lines from the extension center, Crowe explained, lead to the sewage treatment plant partly through a new line, part of which also would serve the contractors' parcel.

Mayor Mitchell and Jury said they have not received a copy of the new annexation law which permits cities to institute annexation proceedings for the first time in state history.

"It'll take a lot of study," they said.

Frozen Foods in Endless variety now comprise a most important department of the modern market. Selection is made easy by the use of special cases into which the shopper reaches to pick up just what she wants in the right sized package.

Since World War II

Frozen Food Industry Recent Development

One of the most important developments in the food industry in recent years has been the growth in production of frozen foods that has occurred since World War II.

The great variety of frozen foods now available have enabled today's housewife to vary her menus considerably and to present to her family, in a minimum of time, many dishes that were, until the recent past, considered exclusively for gourmets and patrons of the country's more expensive restaurants.

The advantages of the new and improved methods of quick-freezing foods for the consumer are many.

Maximum Flavor

First, the nutritional value, as well as maximum flavor, of all kinds of meats, poultry, fish, fruits and vegetables is retained. Families with home freezers, too, are able to buy in quantity. Not only do they save time marketing but they find it convenient to have on hand supplies of all kinds of food for all occasions.

What a treat it is for the housewife, busy with her children, her job or her civic duties to be able to "heat and eat" one of many custom-cooked foods, prepared by expert chefs according to special recipes.

In a matter of minutes, she can have on her table a turkey dinner, pizza, chow mein, chicken cacciatore, seafood — or whatever tempts her and her family at the moment.

Or, with more time, she can go to her freezer and take out a steak, a rock cornish hen, a lobster — and fruits and vegetables that are no longer "seasonal" in their availability. Sweet corn, asparagus, strawberries and so many other favorites can now be placed on the table with ease 12 months a year.

All of these advantages are reflected, of course, in the rapid growth of the frozen food industry. The output of frozen foods in 1958 reached 4,582,000,000 pounds, as compared to 431,000,000 pounds in 1940 and 2,000,000,000 in 1950.

In 1957, more than 400,000,000 pot pies were produced; more than 80,000,000 complete dinners and more than 85,000,000 fruit pies, as well as some 200 different types of casserole dishes, meat, fish and poultry items and nationality dishes.

Along with the farm workers and technicians needed for growing and processing this food, employment has been provided by the frozen food industry for many others.

Below-zero storage, all the way from packer to consumer, has required new refrigerating facilities every step of the way. New packaging materials, specially designed for each type of frozen food, have been needed.

There are today over 1,600 frozen food packers or processors of commercially frozen foods. In 1945, there were about 400.

Driver Found Unconscious

Drove Car Across Center of Street, Collided Headon

Robert J. Bessette, 28, of 527 E. Maple street, was taken to Appleton Memorial hospital by Lindy's ambulance about 2 a.m. today when he was found unconscious at the scene of an accident at Richmond and Lorain streets.

Police said Bessette's car was about 5 1/2 feet past the center line on the wrong side of N. Richmond when it collided with a car driven by Richard J. Rine, 24, of 1504 N. Locust street. Rine told police he slowed down, but could not avoid Bessette's car.

Bessette is in good condition today with a cut on the jaw and chest bruises. Police said today he will be charged with inattentive driving.

3-Car Pileup

Two drivers who said they were distracted by the sound of a third driver's sudden stop at Outagamie and Washington streets shortly before 5:30 p.m. Tuesday collided and spun one car into the third driver's auto.

Orastia E. Drews, 20, of 924 W. Fifth street, told police he stopped suddenly on Outagamie when he saw a car, driven by Roger Hendricks, 23, of 1422 W. Lawrence street, southbound on Outagamie, and another, driven by Delvin E. Dorschner, 59, of 1121 N. Drew street, eastbound on Washington. Dorschner's car hit the side of Hendricks' car, spinning it around and into Drews' car.

Hendricks, with cuts and bruises, was taken to St. Elizabeth hospital by Lindy's ambulance.

Grade Football League Meeting Carded Saturday

Menasha — A meeting for fifth and sixth grade boys interested in playing in the touch football league will be held at 9 a.m. Saturday morning at the Seventh street playground, Recreation Director Bob Vanevenhoven reported today.

Rules will be discussed, teams and captains and managers assigned, Vanevenhoven said. Games will be played each Saturday morning at the Sixth and Seventh street playgrounds.

"The lack of an adequate infirmary-segregation-receiving building is important," Skaff said. Recently the building commission released money for developing plans.

Skaff also said the wall needs repair, the towers replacement, the laundry replacement, and the institution needs full-time chaplains and a psychiatrist.

Reformatory Population Up

Serious Problem, Supt. Skaff Tells Welfare Board

Post-Crescent News Service

Green Bay — "The most serious problems facing the institution relate principally to the continuing high population and to some physical plant inadequacies," reformatory Supt. M. A. Skaff told the state board of public welfare in his annual report on the reformatory.

The board, which met at the state reformatory Wednesday, was told "the high level of population creates problems in terms of inmate housing, services, and training. Should the population exceed 1,050, some additional staff members will be necessary. The population reached an all-time peak of 1,040 this year, but it since has declined under 1,000.

"With steadily increasing numbers of persons reaching the 16-30 age group, we can reasonably expect a continuation of this trend," Skaff predicted.

"The lack of an adequate infirmary-segregation-receiving building is important," Skaff said. Recently the building commission released money for developing plans.

Skaff also said the wall needs repair, the towers replacement, the laundry replacement, and the institution needs full-time chaplains and a psychiatrist.

Town Acquires Indian Site as New Park Area

Menasha Regarded As Battle Scene

Menasha — A site where Indian ceremonial dances to the dead were held a century ago and which often has been thought of as the place where the Indians buried the victims of the massacre that gave Little Lake Butte des Morts its name has been acquired by the town of Menasha for park purposes.

Located on the south side of the Chicago and North Western tracks where the railroad reaches the west shore of the lake, the 5-acre parcel was acquired from Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Peters.

It is known as the Reinhold Eisenach estate and will be known as Fritse park in honor of the Eisenachs' youngest daughter, Mrs. Fritse Eisenach Peters.

The Eisenachs established their farm there 85 years ago and for some time after that the Indian ceremonial dances to the dead still were held at the site at regular intervals.

The 5-acre area secured for the park was known as the Indian mounds and families regularly visited that site for picnics.

Indian Relics Found

The Eisenach family sold sand from their property and in the digging operations many Indian bones and relics were uncovered. The real knoll, however, remains where the Indian ceremonial dances were held.

Included in the 5-acre plat will be an access area to Little Lake Butte des Morts.

Development of the park will be studied by the town's park commission which includes L. O. Cooke, F. H. Orison, John Schwartzbauer, John A. Geiger, D. H. Kaufman, Carlton Haase and H. H. Des Marais.

Town Chairman Amos Page in announcing the park property acquisition, said it is fitting and proper that the Peters family, which has no children of its own, is making this area available to future generations and to preserve a small part of this historical area for posterity.

The Eisenach family had six children, one of whom was killed in the Spanish-American war and one who died a few years ago. The remaining members are Mrs. Edith Smith of Detroit, Otto of Chicago, Charles of Neenah and Mrs. Peters, now living at Fond du Lac.

16 'North End' Persons Named For Jury Duty

Oshkosh — Sixteen of the 36 persons named for circuit court jury duty for the fall term of circuit court are from the northern half of the county, according to Clerk of Courts William E. Osborne.

Neenah persons named for jury duty are Edward Hanson, route 2; Mrs. R. H. Quade, route 1; Mrs. Caroline Bergman, 149 Douglas street; Mrs. Edmund Bloch, 401 Ninth street; Mrs. Richard Roudsbush, route 1; Mrs. George Hrubecy, route 1; and A. T. Hudson, route 1.

Chosen from Menasha were Mrs. Evelyn Resch, 744 Broad street; Mrs. Viola Hidde, 516 Riverway; Mrs. Carolyn Stallman, 351 Second street; Gerald Wagner, 325 Second street; Norbert F. Engel, 713 Sixth street; Mildred Buelow, 213 Second street; and Marie Kraft, 884 Third street.

Also chosen were Elmer Schuelke, route 2, Fremont, and Grover Ulrich, route 2, Fremont.

Township Considers Motorboat Ordinance

Menasha — Adoption of an ordinance regulating motorboats on Little Lake Butte des Morts was proposed at Tuesday night's town of Menasha board meeting and the town's attorney was instructed to prepare such an ordinance.

Town officials have received numerous complaints about motorboats without mufflers going up and down the lake and making considerable noise. The proposed ordinance would require the use of mufflers on outboard motors on the lake.

Rotary to Hear of Mental Health Work

Neenah — Mrs. Tom Catlin will speak on the work of the Mental Health Association and its activities at the Central State hospital at Waupun at the Neenah Rotary club meeting Thursday noon at the Valley Inn.

Chisox Win 1st Pennant In 40 Years

Smith, Rivera Hit Homers In 4-2 Victory Over Tribe

By The Associated Press
The White Sox did it. They did it like champs, clinching that long-awaited American league pennant in their final meeting with the one club that could snatch it from them. They did it with a 4-2 victory over the second-place Indians at Cleveland Tuesday night, hauling in Chicago's first AL flag since 1919. They did it not with their magic singles, but with power—a pair of scoring doubles by Luis Aparicio and Billy Goodman, and suc-

sive sixth-inning home runs by Al Smith and Jim Rivera. They did it with pitching and defense. Early Wynn, the old man the Indians didn't want, won his twenty-first, getting relief help from young Bob Shaw, the right-hander Detroit didn't want, and Gerry Staley, the reliever nobody wanted. Staley, like Wynn a 39-year-old right-hander, wrapped it up, making his sixty-fifth trip from the bullpen this season in the ninth inning with one out and the bases loaded. With one pitch it was all over. Vic Power swung at that first pitch of Staley's, Aparicio gobbled it up at short, stepped on second and threw to first for the Sox' fourth double play, the double play that ended 40 years of waiting. The end was so sudden the White Sox seemed startled. It took them a second to realize they had it. Then they swarmed all over each other with 54,283 mourners looking on in Cleveland's massive mortuary for dead Indians. The victory gave the White Sox a 41-game lead over the Indians, who have but four games to play. The Sox have three left—before playing the opening game of the World series in Chicago's Comiskey park a week from today.

Rory Calhoun, Rudy Ellis Fight Tonight

Chicago—Veteran Rory Calhoun of White Plains, N. Y., and young Rudy Ellis of South Haven, Mich., meet in a 10-round middleweight bout in Chicago stadium tonight. Ellis, a 23-year-old who punched Bobby Boyd into retirement last month, hopes to use Calhoun as a stepping stone. The fight will be televised nationally (ABC-9 p. m. DST). Ellis, a native Chicagoan, has a 17-2 record and 10 of his victories have been KOs. Calhoun, who will be 25 later this month, turned pro five years ago and has compiled a 29-7-2 record.

2 In A Row
The White Sox, who had lost two in a row as their pennant push sputtered, whipped the Indians, 15-7, for the season. This one climaxed a drive that began with a 4-game sweep at Cleveland in late August. They won nine of the 11 games they played at the Indians' park. Chicagoans Give Sox Tumultuous Welcome

15,000 Wait at Airport; Sirens Blare in City
BY JERRY LISKA
Chicago—The go-go White Sox returned to find their city really gone in the wee hours this morning over Chicago's first American league pennant in 40 years. Some 15,000 fans waited from before midnight to past 2 a. m. at the airport for the victorious Sox' return from Cleveland. Long before that, sirens had blasted out the news that the White Sox were in the World Series.

Hilarious Greeting
Tears of joy glistened in the eyes of both club Vice President "Chuck" Comiskey and Manager Al Lopez as the big 4-engine plane wheeled into the arched setting at the airport. While the Chicago fire department band played and the thousands cheered, the players poured out of the plane to a hilarious greeting. It was almost 4 1/2 hours after the White Sox had won their thrilling pennant—clinchers from the Indians, 4-2, in Cleveland.

The loudest cheers went to Luis Aparicio, the phenomenal little shortstop, who started a game-ending double play; Al Smith, who made a great run-killing throw and hit a homer; and veteran Early Wynn, who got credit for the big win. Who would start in the World Series for the Sox? "You can make a good guess," Lopez told sports writers on the victory plane. He winked knowingly when they suggested Wynn or Bob Shaw.

Braves Win, Take 1-Game Lead in Torrid Flag Race

Pizarro and McMahon Stop Bucs For 13th Victory in 16 Games

Pittsburgh—The pennant-driving Milwaukee Braves have reclaimed the summit where they stand all alone, one game out in front in the National league race. The defending champions pulled out of a tie Tuesday night with a 5-3 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The Los Angeles Dodgers fell a game back when they were defeated, 11-10, by the Cardinals in St. Louis and the San Francisco Giants dropped two games off the pace after being beaten, 5-4, by the Cubs in Chicago.

Milwaukee's late surge to become the first three-in-a-row NL winner since the Cardinals of 1942-43-44 now has given the Braves a 4-game streak and 13 victories in their last 16 games.

Once more, the Braves withstood a ninth-inning rally by the Pirates to claim the victory, compounded of the pitching and hitting of lefty Juan Pizarro, some adequate relief hurling by Don McMahon and a long home run by Del Crandall.

"Won't Give Up"
As Crandall said, "We finished for the second night in a row on a wing and a prayer."

Said Manager Fred Haney after the Pirates had been squelched, "Those guys just won't give up. You'd think they were playing for the pennant rather than trying to knock our brains out."

The Pirates will try the same thing tonight when they meet the Braves for the last time. Bob Buhl, 14-9, will oppose Ron Kline, 10-13.

Each of the contenders has four games left. All finish the current series today. Then the Braves go home for a 3-game weekend series with last-place Philadelphia while the Dodgers shift to Chicago and the Giants switch to St. Louis.

The blow that decided the game was Pizarro's 2-run double in the seventh.

Cards Send Dodgers Spinning Into Second With 11 to 10 Decision

Frank Howard Whacks 3-Run Pinch Homer In 9th; Cubs Darken Giants' Hopes, 5-4

By The Associated Press
Los Angeles faces the prospect tonight of winning—or else—against a team that served as pallbearers for the Milwaukee Braves here three years ago while the Dodgers were winning the pennant.

This time, the Braves are riding atop the National league standings, one game ahead of the Dodgers, with just four to play. And the Braves won't call at Busch stadium, home of the St. Louis Cardinals, again this season.

In 1956 the Braves came to St. Louis one game in front with three left, but finished one game behind the Dodgers, then in Brooklyn.

The Cards, all but assured of a seventh place finish this season, blew LA out of a tie for the lead Tuesday night with an 11-10 victory.

All We Had
"We threw everything we had at them," said Redbird Manager Solly Hemus. "And that's the way it'll be the rest of the way. My club is ready to cut loose."

Hemus plans to start young Rob Miller, a 20-year-old right-hander from St. Louis, against the Dodgers tonight.

Dodger Manager Walter Alston, who was philosophical about the loss that dumped his club into second place, will see Roger Craig.

A stolen sign by a veteran and a 2-out ninth inning homer by a rookie will haunt the San Francisco Giants this winter.

Packers Obtain Rookie Tackle From Cardinals

McHan to Start Sunday; Nitschke Drills at Fullback

BY ART DALEY
Post-Crescent News Service
Pewaukee—The Packers worked today under policed privacy in preparation for the league opener against the Bears in Green Bay Sunday afternoon.

The intensive practice schedule followed a newsy Tuesday that saw the Packers obtain Ken Beck, a highly-touted rookie defensive tackle, from the Cardinals in exchange for a draft choice; drill linebacker Ray Nitschke at fullback; and name Lamar McHan as the starting quarterback against the Bears.

Beck's arrival boosts the Packer roster to 37 players—one over the limit, thus indicating that a player shuffle of some sort is in the air. Though the Bear game is fast approaching, Lombardi is in hopes of making a last bit of improvement.

Vikes Work to Improve Their Aerial Attack

The Lawrence college football team is putting considerable stress on its aerial game as it prepares for Saturday's game against Grinnell at Whiting field.

Passing was the only phase of play in which Head Coach Bernie Heselton was definitely disappointed last week when the Vikes were nipped, 8-7, by Knox. Except for the usual run of first-game mistakes, Heselton was encouraged by the team's running game and defensive display.

No Injuries
Heselton feels sure the Vikes won't be that impatient, aerialwise, again (they completed no passes in seven tries). "Our passers and receivers are better than they showed Saturday," the coach said. While the Vikes took a pretty good physical going over from a heavy Knox team, they came out of the game without any injuries.

The difference between Knox and Lawrence last Saturday, in Heselton's estimation, was Glenn Weyhrich, a 240-pound howitzer. Without him, Knox would have been beaten quite handily, Bernie says.

As effective as he was on offense, Weyhrich actually hurt the Vikes more defensively.

John L. Rautman

With the pro football season ready to make its majestic entrance in only four days, the most vital question for us Packerlanders is: How will Vince Lombardi's first Packer edition fare? Since few realists expect the '59 Bays to win a championship—and won't pick them to do so—the next most interesting query is: Who will be the division champs? With an ever-improving league balance being struck and only a short schedule (12 games apiece) available to decide the issue, it gets tougher each year to pull the winners out of the hat. But, just to get into the harmless guessing game, my picks are both the Colts and the Giants to repeat.

Back to the Packers for a moment. They did far better in exhibition play—under a new system—than anyone could have foreseen. Though pre-season records, as such, shouldn't be taken too seriously, they can indicate trends and attitudes. We haven't met anyone yet who isn't impressed by the job Lombardi has done to date. However, no authentic appraisal of his first-year efforts can be made until the returns are in on the blue-chip games directly ahead. As far as I'm concerned, a break-even season for the Packers would make Vince's debut a spectacular success. But, four or five wins would be a more realistic goal. So, let's guess at a 5-7 record. Grid Giants Cut Grosscup, 'Buddy' Dial

Redskins Waiver
Weatherall, Zagers;
Torgeson to Coach

By The Associated Press

The New York Giants have given up on quarterback Lee Grosscup, their No. 1 draft choice. They also cut "Buddy" Dial, the former Rice All-America end, Tuesday to make a day of fevered activity by the National Football league clubs to trim their rosters to the prescribed 36 player limit by the weekend.

Washington cut three players, one of them being Lavorne Torgeson, an all pro linebacker during part of his eight NFL seasons.

The 30-year-old former Washington State star, however, was immediately hired as an assistant coach by the Redskins.

Also Dropped

Also dropped were tackle Jim Weatherall, former Oklahoma All America, and halfback Bert Zagers, formerly of Michigan State.

The San Francisco 49ers reached the player limit by placing halfback Jim Pace, All America at Michigan, on the injured reserve list.

Baltimore's defending champion Colts reduced their squad by trading rookie guard Hanson Churchill of Mississippi to the Redskins and placing first-year linebacker Tommy Addison of South Carolina on waivers.

The Pittsburgh Steelers cut two veterans, end Dick Lucas and tackle John Simerson, and rookie halfback Floyd Dellinger of Texas Tech.

Little Aparicio, the defensive ace from Caracas, commented just before the plane landed: "This is the best play I ever make in my life." He was referring to his quick scoop of Vic Power's hot-bounded with the bases loaded, his dash across second base and his sharp relay to first doubling Powers.

Sirens Blare

At 10:30, about an hour after the game had ended, the Chicago fire department and city civil defense officials issued an order permitting the use of air raid sirens. The sirens usually are turned on Tuesday mornings in practice drills; never at night.

The sirens blared for some five minutes.

The state civil defense director deplored "the unauthorized use of civil defense sirens" and protested formally to the city government.

Miller Golf Test Cancelled

Milwaukee — The 1959 $35,000 Milwaukee Open Golf tournament was the last under the sponsorship of the Miller Brewing Co.

Norman R. Klug, Miller president, said Tuesday the tournament, a fixture on the professional circuit for five years, was undertaken in 1955 as part of the company's centennial celebration. He said the 1959 tournament fulfilled the company's commitment.

He said there would be no tournament in 1960, but there was no information on its future beyond that date.

M. stands 6-3 and packs 245 pounds. He's a sixth defensive lineman, joining Dave Hanner, Bill Quinlan, Nate Borden, Henry Jordan and Jim Temp.

Big Nitschke, really a fast man for his 225 pounds, will back up Jim Taylor at fullback, although halfback Lew Carpenter also will work in the spot.

"It'll give me a chance to get in more running, working over there. We don't run much as a linebacker," Ray said.

Nitschke made his college reputation as a crashing fullback at the University of Illinois. He's now the Packers' only "big" back. Taylor and Paul Hornung each go about 200 and Carpenter 205.

The change gives the Packers six offensive backs, not counting the quarterbacks. Nitschke joins Tim Brown, Don McInnis, Hornung, Taylor and Carpenter.

Nothing New

Starting against the Bears is nothing new for McLean who was an old Bear hater as a member of their cross-town rivals, the Cardinals, for five seasons. McLean knows the Bears "like a book," Lombardi said. He engineered one of the worst Bear defeats in history—that 56 to 14 Cardinal win in 1956.

McLean has shown considerable improvement in the last two or three weeks. He replaced Bart Starr at the start of the second half of the Steeler game Sunday and produced 10 points in the final quarter—enough to win 13-10.

Joe Francis played the first quarter and Starr quarterbacked the second, getting a field goal and missing a touchdown when Brown dropped a pass in the end.

All Runnings

The Packers were all running well today—even Andy Cverke, the rookie guard who injured his leg in the Pitt game.

Lombardi is holding practice in strict secrecy. Tuesday's workout had a large audience and the Bay coach, aware that the Bears spied on Packer drills in the past, was certain that the drills were being watched by enemy eyes.

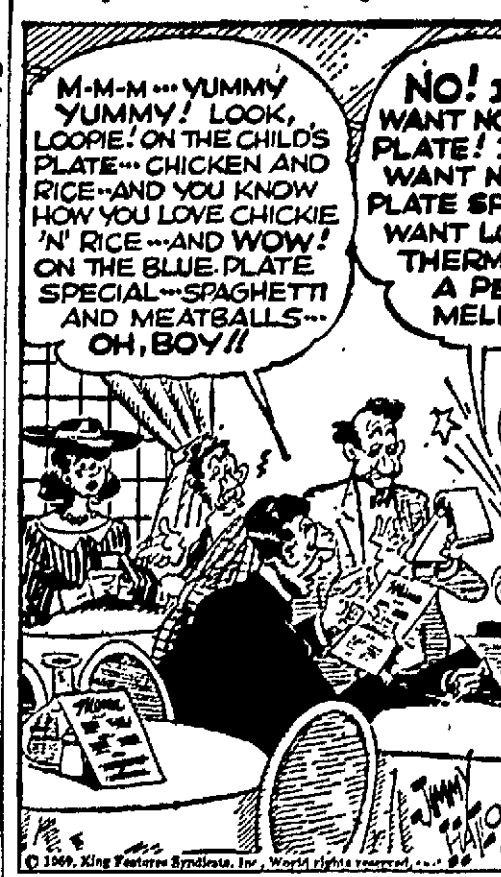

Thus, the rest of the week's practices will be held in private. All stray visitors will be ushered away—by police.

"Are the Russians coming?" One woman reported "I was on my knees praying for five minutes" because she thought the sirens warned that the city was under atomic attack.

One man complained to The Associated Press:

"It's ignorant and pretty stupid. That system was set up for emergency use only."

Hackbart Is Still Handicapped by Injury to Knee

Madison — Dale Hackbart is slated as Wisconsin's starting quarterback against Stanford Saturday but there's still a nagging doubt the veteran passer may not be ready for fulltime duty.

Hackbart wrenched his left knee in a practice scrimmage more than 10 days ago. He's appeared at workouts since but primarily as a spectator.

Monday, some of the tape windings bracing the injury were removed and he tried his hand at passing. Tuesday, he did some running. In both performances he obviously was hampered by the hurt.

Coach Milt Bruhn said the tape still may have been responsible for the limp.

Three lettermen are definitely lost to the Badgers in their opener due to injuries. They are guards Charlie Sprague and Gerald Kluciniski, and tackle Terry Huxhold.

Roosevelt travels to Kimberly Thursday, and Menasha performs at Wilson as the Fox Valley Freshman Football league opens its season.

Defending champion Neenah plays host to Kaukauna. Roosevelt Coach Merlin "Smiley" Feind has been working with a squad of over 60 eighth and ninth graders, some of whom saw action with last season's loop runners.

Top Reserves

Feind is starting his twelfth season as Roosevelt skipper.

Five Accused of Trying to Gain Control of Welterweight Champion Don Jordan

FBI Arrests Carbo, Palermo, Gibson

Los Angeles — Five men seized in a nation-wide FBI roundup are accused of trying to grab control of world welterweight champion Don Jordan.

A federal grand jury investigating underworld influence in boxing indicted them Tuesday in Los Angeles. They were arrested within a few hours in Los Angeles, Chicago, Philadelphia and Baltimore.

Under Arrest

The indictments charged conspiracy to extort money from Jordan's manager, Don Nesseth of Covina, Calif., and Jackie Leonard, former Hollywood Legion stadium boxing promoter.

Under arrest are: Paul John Carbo, known as Frankie Carbo, 55, of New York City. He is under indictment in New York for undercover management of fighters.

Frank "Blinky" Palermo, 54, Philadelphia boxing manager.

Truman Gibson, Jr., 47, Chicago attorney, president of National Boxing enterprises, Inc., and formerly a director of the International Boxing club which operated Madison Square garden in New York.

Joseph Sica, 48, Los Angeles, who has a record of arrests going back to 1928.

Louis Tom Dragna, 39, West Covina, Calif., manager of a clothing store and described as having been involved in bookmaking.

The indictment alleged that Palermo extorted $1,725 from Leonard through threats of harming him and Nesseth.

No interest

Leonard had no interest in Jordan's management but said Palermo and Carbo made him an unwilling go-between in their purported effort to believe the Bays will outfinish the 49ers and that they have a chance of beating out the Lions, too.

Baltimore, Los Angeles and the Bears shape up as the division's Big 3. I pick the Colts to win because they reached their peak in 1958 and should be able to retain that edge for at least another year. The Colts, though, face a thorny task, for the Western division hasn't had a repeating champ since the '54 Lions. Four different clubs—the Rams, the Bears, the Lions and the Colts—have won the title in the last four seasons. Only the Packers and the 49ers have been shut out in this decade. Since 1950, only Cleveland and New York have won Eastern crowns—and they figure to battle it out again. I give the Giants a hair-line edge on the basis of a tougher defense and better quarterbacking.

This will be the first year in perhaps a quarter-century that the National Football league is going into a season without even a minor rules change.

Having Wisconsin rated at or near the top by practically ever "expert" doesn't seem to faze Head Coach Milt Bruhn. "It doesn't bother us to be put on the spot—we'll play each game as well as we can," volunteered the affable Bruhn last week in Madison. He declined to guess how high the Badgers would finish but allowed as how everyone would know how good they are after the Purdue, Iowa and Ohio States games—which are slated on successive weekends. (Against this trio, Bruhn has only a 2-5-1 record in his three years as head coach.)

Bruhn considers Tom Wiesner and Ed Hart as co-first string fullbacks. Hart's greatest value right now is on offense, according to the coach, while Wiesner is the better defensively. Bruhn does make one prediction—college football will be opened up considerably this year. The pro-type offenses of Stanford and Marquette—UW's first two foes—will be a real challenge to the team, Bruhn says. This week, the Badger defenders will be concentrating on Stanford exclusively. But, in previous weeks of practice, he had the team working against Stanford, MU and Purdue attacks. The speedy soph. Stu Clark, will be used primarily as a spot player, according to Bruhn. It's pretty tough for the youngster to dislodge both Ron Steiner and Billy Hobbs, he avers. Steiner and Hobbs posted the Badgers' best 1958 rushing averages—5.8 yards and 5.0 yards per carry, respectively. The UW has lost only two—Jon Hobbs and Sid Williams—of its top nine rushers of a year ago.

Among players dropped recently by pro grid clubs were punter Dick Deschaine (by Cleveland) and 1958 Northwestern star Willmer Fowler (by Philadelphia).

The Midwest conference—a circuit with members who think for themselves—didn't go along with the NCAA in the goal-post widening rule because: (1) Some high schools use the same football fields; (2) it's too expensive; (3) they don't consider the change a good idea. If the idea is to encourage field goal kicking, says the MC, let's move the posts up to the goal-line, as the pros have done.

career victory and tying Burleigh Grimes for fifteenth place on the all-time winners' list, made it 10 out of 11 against the Indians since they bundled him off to the White Sox with Smith two years ago for "Minnie" Minoso and Fred Hatfield.

He had the Indians blanked on four hits until the fifth, working out of a 2-on, none-out jam in the second inning. He did it by getting "Rocky" Colavito on a fly to left, where Smith put it away and threw home to nail Minoso, trying to score from third. "Woody" Held then fouled out.

Puts in Shaw

A walk and two singles gave the Indians a run in the fifth, which ended with Power hitting into a doubleplay. Manager Al Lopez then replaced Wynn with Shaw when two singles and Colavito's sacrifice fly gave the Indians their other run in the sixth.

The Sox gave Wynn a 2-0 lead against Loser Jim Perry (12-10) in the third on "Bubba" Phillips' single and 2-out doubles by Aparicio and Goodman. It was Jim "Mudcat" Grant, another right-hander, who gave up the clinching homers, Smith's sixteenth and Rivera's third.

Shaw checked the Indians, who left nine men on base, until the ninth, when Jim Baxes, Jack Harshman and Jim Piersall singled to load the bases with one out. Then came Staley, Power and the payoff.

In the other AL games, New York whipped Washington, 8-4; Detroit beat Kansas City, 6-4; and Boston defeated Baltimore, 4-3.

San Antonio, Tex. — Joe Miceli, 150, New York, and Mel Barker, 148, Austin, Tex. drew, 3. Bout halted because of accidental butt that cut Miceli's cheekbone.

Jack Burton walloped a 646 threehome for Benke's Clothes in Hahn's Major league Tuesday night. One of his games was a 235. Ed Flood of Pastyme also shot a 235 and finished with a 579.

Court's Cities (8-0) holds a 2-game lead.

Ed Grassl slapped a 610 trio.

Harry Meisenholder rattled a 572 threehome for the Wolverines in Hahn's Appleton Coated wheel. The Gophers (7-2) hold a half-game circuit lead.

In Hahn's Ten Pin Toilers wheel Ellie Pollard blasted a 509 for Carpet Shop, including a 208 singleton. AAL No. 1, South Side Service and Van Leur and Bytof (4-2) are tied for first.

Evelyn Hanson boomed a 194 for Kohl Construction in the Five by Eight wheel at Hahn's. The KC Bar (8-1) tops the loop by two games.

sively, according to Heselton. He was used in the line on defense and turned in one of their best three or four "tackle" games ever turned in against a Heselton-coached Lawrence team.

Makes Vital Stop

Weyhrich, who was a first-team all state prepster in Illinois as a lineman, played his first game as a fullback last Saturday. Game films showed that Weyhrich made the vital stop on Gary Scovel (inches short of a first down) in the final minute and a half of Saturday's game. And, Weyhrich recovered after having been blocked out of the play.

Almost without exception, the returning Vike veterans played a better game Saturday than they did in the 1958 opener, said Heselton. He especially lauded the work of Doug Millard, who went both ways at guard, after having been a little-used reserve for two years.

Heselton also had words of praise for the initial showings

Pizarro Comes Through

Buhl, Burdette and Spahn to Start For Braves in Final Four Games

BY JACK HAND

Pittsburgh (AP)—Juan Pizarro, a young man who seems to profit by an annual trip to the minors, has pitched the Milwaukee Braves over the hump in the National league race. From now on it will be Bob Buhl, Lou Burdette and Warren Spahn with a 1-game lead and four to play.

Manager Fred Haney has his pitching staff in enviable condition for the final four games that will determine whether the Braves are to win a third straight pennant. The gamble was Tuesday night's start of Pizarro, a husky 22-year-old Puerto Rican. The left-hander came through, with ninth inning relief help from Don McMahon, to beat Pittsburgh, 5-3.

Goes Tonight

Buhl (14-9) goes tonight in the finale with the Pirates. It will be Burdette (21-14), Spahn (20-15) and Buhl in the final three with the Phillies at home in Milwaukee.

"This fellow has the potential to be one of the greatest," said Haney of Pizarro. "It is all up to him. Sometimes he fires the ball. Sometimes he of a quartet of soph; Dan Brink, Dave Jordan, Tom Walker and Bob Landis.

lobs it up. Sometimes he can't get it over. Tonight he was firing."

Pizarro was farmed out to Wichita in 1957 and again in 1958. This year he spent from June 7 to June 23 with Louisville where he pitched a no-hitter and other low-hit efforts.

Pizarro agreed that the stay things that can't be quoted, then added:

"He just stuck out his bat in going for an outside pitch and that was the ball game. But I guess there have been worse ones than that."

There was some shifting of the Milwaukee lineup that put veteran Andy Pafko in left field and rookie John DeMerit in center where he played for the injured Bill Bruton. Both Pafko, who also hit a triple, and DeMerit shared in the seventh inning outburst.

Pafko Doubles

Pafko opened the inning with a double and took third on DeMerit's bunt single. Crandall knocked into a double play, Pafko staying on third. Felix Mahilla was given an intentional walk before Pizarro sliced his double down the left field line. Pafko and Mantilla scoring. Bobby Avila then rammed a single into center field, allowing Pizarro to go home.

Pizarro opened the Pirate ninth by giving up his only walk, to Bob Skinner. After Dick Groat singled, McMahon came on.

"You could see Pizarro was weakening," Crandall said, "and the skipper didn't waste any time pulling him out."

McMahon retired the next two batters before "Smoky" Burgess singled to score Skinner. Don Hoak singled to score Groat before Rocky Nelson grounded out to end the game. McMahon's relief saved Pizarro's sixth victory against a pair of defeats. The loser was Harvey Haddix, now 12-12, who hasn't beaten Milwaukee since June 24, 1957. In beating the Pirates for the third time this season, Pizarro fanned four, and allowed only six hits.

Avila Triples

The Braves opened the scoring in the first inning on Avila's triple to center. He made it all the way to third despite falling down between first and second. Hank Aaron's sacrifice fly sent him home. Crandall's twenty-first homer came in the fifth. It was a booming smash that must have traveled at least 420 feet over the left field fence.

The Pirates managed only two hits in the first four innings but landed on Pizarro for three singles and a run in the fifth. Burgess, Hoak and Bill Mazeroski hit safely, loading Louisville was a help to him.

"You can not win if you do not pitch in your turn," he said. "In Louisville I pitched a regular turn. When I do that I have my stuff and can get the ball over."

"Some days you throw hard. Other days you think you are throwing hard but the catcher tells you that you are not."

Pizarro said he mixes a curve and a screwball with his fast ball that accounted for 318 strikeouts at Jacksonville, Fla., in 1956, his first year.

"Ruben Gomez (now with the Phils) taught me how to throw the screwball," said Pizarro. "I didn't use it much tonight. But it gives me the extra pitch."

The Braves eagerly listened to reports of the Los Angeles-St. Louis game. By the time they were dressed and ready to leave the clubhouse, the Dodgers were losing, 11-7. They finally lost, 11-10, dropping one full game behind Milwaukee.

In Bullpen

Haney had Burdette in the bullpen Tuesday night during the Pirates' 2-run rally in the ninth. He said he would have pitched Burdette if pinch hitter "Rocky" Nelson had connected for a hit against McMahon. Instead, Nelson grounded out to end the game.

"It will be Buhl tomorrow," said Haney, "and probably Burdette, Spahn and Buhl over the weekend. But if I need any of the three to help on relief, I won't hesitate to call on them."

ing the bases. Burgess scored the Pirates first run as Roman Mejias forced Mazeroski.

The Pirates didn't get another hit until the ninth.

triumph over the once-hopeful Giants.

Altman was at the plate with an 0-1 count on him when Alvin Dark, who had led off with a double, intercepted the Giant catcher's signal and glashed the fast ball sign to Altman. Sam Jones delivered. It was fast, and Altman swung. The ball traveled high and far into the center field bleachers and with it went San Francisco's pennant hopes.

Almost Throws Glove

Jones made a gesture of throwing his glove at Altman as the Cub outfielder rounded first but the Giant pitcher thought better, walked off the field slowly and gave first base a swift kick.

The Giants retain a mathematical chance for the flag but they not only have to win their remaining four games, they must hope for the complete collapse of both Milwaukee and Los Angeles.

Manager Bill Rigney, a talkative optimist, had little to say. "There's no doubt about it, we'll have to win the rest," he said. None of the players had anything to say.

Los Angeles, making it close on rookie Frank Howard's pinch-hit, 3-run homer in the ninth, chased nemesis Larry Jackson in the first inning, but blew 3-0 and 6-4 leads. (Howard starred for the Green Bay Bluejays in 1958.)

Hal Smith bombed starting Dodger southpaw "Sandy" Koufax with his first grand slam homer in the first inning. After Gil Hodges' 2-run, twenty-fourth homer gave the Dodgers the 6-4 edge in the third, the Cards came back with five runs in their half of the third. Curt Flood's 3-run homer set it off against losing reliever Chuck Churn (3-2). Joe Cunningham singled in the tying run in the frame and a double by exp-Dodger Gino Cimoli scored the lead run.

2 in 5th

The Cardinals won it with two runs in the fifth, getting the clincher on an error by Carl Furillo on Cimoli's RBI single.

The Dodgers used 24 players, six of 'em pitchers, and set a major league record with nine pinch-hitters — four of whom reached base. Southpaw Marshall Bridges (6-3) was the winner.

Jones, working in relief was tagged with his fifteenth defeat, third in a row since winning his twentieth. Don Elston (9-8) was the winner in relief, coming on in a 2-run eighth when the Giants, who left nine men on base, scored twice for their only lead, 4-3.

The Cubs took fifth place with the victory as Cincinnati fell to sixth with a twin-night doubleheader loss at Philadelphia, 3-1 and 3-2.

Lane Compliments AL

Cuccinello to Manage Chisox As Lopez Scouts NL Clubs

By The Associated Press

After his Chicago White Sox clinched the American league pennant Tuesday night, Manager Al Lopez said he would put Coach Tony Cuccinello in charge of the team for the season-ending series against the Tigers in Detroit this weekend.

"I'll stay in Chicago and scout San Francisco against the Cubs today, and either Los Angeles against the Cubs or Philadelphia at Milwaukee this weekend. It depends on how things go in the next few days, whether I'll watch Los Angeles or Milwaukee."

American league president Poe Cronin visited the bedlamfilled Sox dressing room after the conquest of Cleveland. So did General Manager Frank Lane of the Indians and Field Manager Joe Gordon, whom Lane immediately replaced with acting manager Mel Harder after the Tribe lost all hope of winning the pennant.

"I told Joe Cronin," Lopez smiled, "that we'd like to win this World Series to give him a good start in his first year as league president."

Lane complimented Lopez, saying "you beat the club you had to beat, so you deserved the pennant." Chicago finished with a 15-7 edge over Cleveland.

Comiskey, the last of the clan of "Old Roman" Comisks still in baseball, beamed proudly as he joined the whooping, shouting players in the dressing room.

Main Drink

Beer was the main refreshment in the dressing room, but the White Sox got much more mileage out of that than they did from champagne which flowed on their plane.

Players were pouring beer all over each other and wildly dancing. Jungle Jim Rivera, easily the club's clown prince, did his version of a Russian cossack dance on a rubbing table.

Aparicio snatched a hat from a radio man, panned it mis-shapen on his own head, and refused to take it off all the way home.

Lopez, who was a man with a nervous stomach, signed as he slumped joyfully in his plane seat: "I'm going to sleep for a week."

The pair gained the title round (which will be contested on a match-play basis) by finishing 1-2 in the medal qualifying round. McGowan carded a 76, while Lieber had a 79. The event is for club players 50 years of age and over.

GRAND NATIONAL BAKE-OFF

Party Cake

3 Cup buttered morsels.
1/2 Cup water.
2 1/2 Cups sifted flour.
1 Teaspoon salt.
1 Teaspoon soda.
1 Teaspoon double-acting baking powder.
1 Cup sugar.
1/2 Cup firmly packed brown sugar.
1 Cup shortening.
3 Unbeaten eggs.
1 Cup buttermilk or sour milk.

Melt buttered morsels in water in saucepan, cool, sift flour with salt, soda and baking powder; set aside. Add sugar and brown sugar gradually to shortening, creaming well, blend in eggs, beating well after each. Add butterscotch morsels; mix well. Add dry ingredients alternately with buttermilk, beginning and ending with dry ingredients. Blend well after each addition. (With mixer use a low speed.) Turn into two 9-inch round layer pans, well greased and lightly floured on the bottom.

Bake at 375 degrees for 30 to 35 minutes; cool; spread filling between layers and on top to within 1 inch of edge. Front sides and top edge with sea foam frosting, or whipped cream. Makes two 9-inch layers.

Butterscotch filling — combine 1 cup sugar and 1 tablespoon cornstarch in 2-quart saucepan, stir in 1 cup evaporated milk, 1/3 cup water, 1/3 cup butterscotch morsels and 1 beaten egg yolk; cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until thick. Remove from heat; add 2 tablespoons butter, 1 cup coconut, chopped, and 1 cup pecans or walnuts, chopped. Cool.

Sea foam frosting — combine in saucepan 1/3 cup sugar, 1/3 cup firmly packed brown sugar, 1/3 cup water and 1 tablespoon corn syrup. Cook until a little syrup dropped in cold water forms a soft ball (235 degrees) meanwhile, beat 1 egg white with 1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar until stiff peaks form. Add syrup to egg white in slow, steady stream, beating constantly until thick enough to spread.

"The LIFE of the Party

Voters Will Get Full Treatment On Everything From Pocketbook Issue to U. S. Foreign Policy

Washington—The American voter apparently is going to get the full treatment on everything from the pocketbook issue to foreign policy in the 1960 presidential campaign.

In the warmup phase of next year's contest for the White House, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Texas) and Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.) injected international policy into the battle yesterday. Both are regarded as available for their party's top nomination in 1960.

Rising Prices
Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill.) accused an anti-inflation committee headed by Vice President Richard M. Nixon of engaging in propaganda instead of trying to find a cure for rising prices.

Sen. Prescott Bush (R-Conn.), one of President Eisenhower's staunchest supporters, denied this and in turn accused Douglas of bringing politics into a senate-house committee's inquiry into economic conditions.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa.) said "so-called economists" are letting America fall behind in meeting the needs of the people for public services. In a speech at Danville, Pa., he proposed moves to expand the economy, close tax loopholes, curb tax evasion and to cut wasteful expenditures.

Positive Program
In a report to constituents, Sen. Hugh Scott (R-Pa.) quoted Lord Macaulay that "a government which attempts more than it ought will perform less." Scott said President Eisenhower's vetoes, "a militant Republican minority" in Congress and "the outrage of the American people" had killed Democratic spending programs.

Johnson and Humphrey called for a positive program in the cold war battle with communism. They made it clear they do not think the Eisenhower administration is providing such a program.

Lord Ironside Dies at 79

Was Commander of British Troops at World War II Start

London—Field Marshal Lord Ironside, 79, died last night at Millbank military hospital where he had been undergoing treatment for a fractured hip. It is understood he died of a heart attack.

Lord Ironside was chief of the British Imperial general staff and commander of the home forces when World War II began in 1939.

On May 26, 1940, he was replaced as chief of staff by Gen. Sir John Dill, and took command of forces preparing to defend Britain against enemy invasion. Two months later he was relieved from that post.

He was promoted to field marshal near the end of 1940 and elevated to the peerage as first baron of Archangel and of Ironside, but his career as leader of the troops was finished.

Lord Ironside was born William Edmund Ironside. His father was an army surgeon. He entered the army in 1899 and served in South Africa during the Boer war.

By 1917, he was a major general in command of a British expedition sent to Archangel in northern Russia.

Civil Rights Solutions in Citizens Hands

Dallas—Local citizens bear the primary responsibility for solving complex problems of civil rights, the vice chairman of the federal civil rights commission says.

"The commission shares with the members of its advisory committees the firm conviction that the resolution of civil rights problems cannot be accomplished exclusively in Washington," Robert G. Storey of Dallas told a civic club audience Tuesday.

He said "grass-roots understanding" is necessary to deal with issues such as the right to vote.

Storey, retired dean of Southern Methodist university school of law, defended a commission recommendation that federal registrars be appointed to administer tests of voting qualifications.

Stressing that the registrars would be local people, Storey commented "we have not urged a return of 'carpet-baggers'."

Wants to Represent Britain at Summit Talks in Summer

London—Prime Minister Macmillan today urged the voters of Lancashire to support his bid to represent Britain at the summit conference which he expects will materialize within the next year.

Campaigning with his wife, Lady Dorothy, Macmillan motored through cotton mill towns with a good luck sprig of white heather tied to the radiator of his car.

The conservative party leader claimed credit for easing east-west tension over Berlin. He said he could go to summit talks with the Russians with one big advantage over his rival, Labor Leader Hugh Gaitskell.

Hopelessly Divided
"I lead a party whose policies are united," Macmillan said. "Mr. Gaitskell would, no doubt, negotiate as well as I shall but his party is hopelessly divided—on the use of foreign bases, on support to NATO, on the H-bomb and on nuclear tests."

Both Macmillan and Gaitskell now have their campaigns for the Oct. 8 national election in high gear.

Gaitskell arranged to address meetings today in four London districts.

In a speech at Bristol last night Gaitskell declared Britain should be represented abroad "by people who believe in the rule of law and in work in good faith positively for peace." He criticized Macmillan's government for its lukewarm reception of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's total disarmament proposals.

Bevan Review
The pro-labor Daily Herald carried an oddly timed review of the career of Aneurin Bevan, the Welsh orator and critic of the United States who would become foreign secretary if labor captured a majority of the 630 seats in the house of commons.

The article referred to Bevan's former leadership of an insurgent group within the party. Although flattering in tone, this digging into the past seemed hardly helpful to labor's cause in the current campaign.

If the party loses, the Herald said, Bevan may be "pressed inevitably back to his former role of left wing rival to the leader." Such a development would answer a conservative hope of years standing.

Boy Hangs Self After Spanking

St. Charles, Mo.—A 12-year-old boy who had been punished by school officials for tardiness and poor school work was found hanging in his back yard Tuesday.

Tony Lewis was found with a length of clothesline wrapped around his neck, a wooden crate lay at his feet.

Tony had been spanked by Principal Paul Maxon Tuesday after being tardy—Maxon said he often was late for school—and for not having his lesson prepared.

The boy sneaked away from school and went home where, his mother said, she told him not to worry and to go out and clean up the yard.

The boy's father, Oliver Lewis, said he believed Tony's death was an accident. He said Tony often played hangman with the clothesline, imitating westerns he saw on television.

Municipal and County Employees Given Right To Organize Unions

Madison—Gov. Gaylord Nelson Tuesday signed a bill giving municipal and county employees the right to organize unions and requiring county boards and local units of government to bargain with employee union representatives.

The Wisconsin Towns association, the County Boards association and the League of Wisconsin Municipalities fought the measure in the legislature.

The legislation makes no reference to strikes but extends authority to the Wisconsin Employment Relations board to mediate or arbitrate disputes.

Spoke Against Nikita; Man Found Beaten

Hungarian Had Helped Hijack Plane to Flee Reds; Won't Talk About Attack

San Francisco—A Hungarian who helped hijack a plane to escape to the free world and who spoke against Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's visit here was found beaten and unconscious early today.

Ferenc Iszak, 31-year-old president of the Hungarian Freedom Fighters of San Francisco, would say only, "I don't remember anything," after police found him in Golden Gate park.

Officers said he seemed very frightened when he regained consciousness in an ambulance en route to an emergency hospital and feigned inability to speak English.

He was reported in fair condition with multiple head, rib and other injuries.

Teacher Beaten, Mother In Jail Because Child Misunderstood Order

Seven-year-old Brenda Mackey was 20 minutes late for school yesterday and her teacher, Mrs. Eda Tanne, 40, told her to go to the principal's office for a "late pass."

Instead, Brenda went home crying and said she had been told to get a note from her mother.

The mother, Mrs. Edith Mackey, 25, went to the school and, before the eyes of some 30 second-graders, allegedly attacked Mrs. Tanne, slapping, tearing at the teacher's clothes, then knocking her down and kicking her.

The children's screams brought other teachers who called police. Mrs. Mackey later was held in $1,000 bail on an assault charge.

Landslide Misses Father and Son

McCammon, Idaho—Farmer Floyd Crump drove his herd of cattle across the road. His father, Howard, was driving behind on a tractor.

Just then a cliff cracked, crumbled and crashed down onto the road. The slide was about 1,000 feet long and 50 feet deep.

But it missed both father and son. The father was about a quarter of a mile behind his son.

Spoon, Electric Fan Vital to Saving Life

Spring Valley, Ill.—An ordinary metal spoon and an electric fan played vital roles in saving the life of a 19-year-old youth whose heart twice stopped beating four days ago.

Doctors in St. Margaret's hospital, in effect, had to electrocute him, then restore his heartbeat.

The youth had undergone relatively minor surgery under anesthesia and was about to be moved from the operating table to the recovery cart when his heartbeat ceased.

Slit Chest
Surgeons slit open his chest and began hand massaging his heart. In a few minutes the heart responded, but twitched convulsively.

The doctors decided electric shock was necessary.

A doctor cut the cord on a nearby electric fan. The insulation was stripped away and the two wires separated.

Electrocute Him
One wire was attached to a metal surgical instrument placed on the youth's left shoulder. The other was attached to a metal spoon placed directly on the exposed heart. The cord was plugged into an outlet and quickly withdrawn four times, sending short bursts of 110-volt electricity through the heart.

In a few moments the heart responded and began a normal beat.

Khrushchev Goals of Disarmament Must be Looked at Seriously

Herter Addresses U.N. Newsmen After Premier's Ideas on Agenda

United Nations, N. Y.—Sec. of State Christian A. Herter said Tuesday that while Nikita Khrushchev's total disarmament plan is propaganda, "the goals set forth must be taken seriously."

The Soviet premier's plan, Herter told a luncheon of the U. N. correspondents association, "requires the closest attention and study."

Herter spoke shortly after the general assembly's 21-nation steering committee unanimously agreed to put Khrushchev's proposal on the agenda of the current session.

Idea Not New
Herter said the complete disarmament idea is not new, nor does the Soviet plan contain any other very novel features. But, he added, the omissions also are important.

The American diplomat said Khrushchev's suggestion of international controls must be explored more fully. The possibility of an international shears near their ears, officials say.

Hugh Terrell said he dropped metal drums and cold drink boxes to keep the blind persons alert when they looked as if they might be asleep. Investigators reported Tuesday.

Robert H. Hall, head of the state law department's criminal division, said Terrell's reasons for committing the other acts were vague.

Herter appeared to rule out U. S. support for a resolution at the present general assembly which would endorse the right of the Algerian people to independence.

police force to preserve peace will have to be studied if the nations ever agreed on total disarmament, Herter said.

Useless Issue
In response to questions about the Berlin situation, Herter said he believed it would be useless to submit the issue to a summit conference at this time.

He said "more work at the foreign ministers' level or in the area of a general agreement" is required to give any chances of working out an agreement at the summit.

The Soviet position on recognition of Communist East Germany at present "leaves us completely at the mercy of the East Germans" in any talks on West Berlin's future, Herter maintained.

Sticking Point
The American secretary said the threat held over the west by Khrushchev when he made his original statement on Berlin remains, "the major sticking point."

Touching on the Algerian question, Herter said he hopes the U. N. will avoid any action which may hinder a settlement of the dispute along the lines recently proposed by French President Charles de Gaulle.

Herter appeared to rule out U. S. support for a resolution at the present general assembly which would endorse the right of the Algerian people to independence.

Tentative School Budget at Record Total of $2,844,818

Would Mean Tax Levy Increase of $72,515; Salary Hikes Pending

In their first look at the 1960 Appleton school budget, school board members Tuesday night learned expenses could increase $196,303 over last year's budget to a record total of $2,844,818.

The tentative figure would mean an Appleton property tax levy increase of $72,515 for schools over last year's school levy of $2,207,018. Last year, however, the school property tax increase was $225,385 over 1958.

None of the new figures is definite. The budget, submitted by William R. Knuth, director of business affairs, could be changed Friday night when the board's education committee considers teacher salary hikes and summer school program increases, and again Monday, when the board meets officially to consider the entire budget.

State Aid Increase
Income from state aids, tuition and other sources probably will be $525,700 in 1960, Knuth estimated, compared to other income estimates in 1959 of $439,182. Because of unexpected increases in state aids and tuition, however, 1959 other income actually will total about $460,564, or $27,381 more than estimated, Knuth explained.

One Decrease
A decrease of about $20,000 is expected in transportation expenses. Nearly $12,000 has been appropriated tentatively for a new curriculum coordinator. The coordinator's salary was estimated at $7,500, with a secretary and supplies costing another $4,000. The coordinator has not yet been approved by the board.

The proposed Appleton High school budget is $549,520, somewhat less than the original proposal last year, but about $36,000 more than the final budget after cuts were made. Largest increases are $2,700 to finish repairing the driveway and parking area, $1,000 to repair sidewalks, $5,000 to repair auditorium seats now being used for study hall purposes, and $25,000 in salaries. Slight increases also are budgeted in custodial and capital outlay accounts, including $2,000 for locker repairs not budgeted last year, but a necessary yearly expense.

Junior High Budgets
Roosevelt Junior High school estimated budget is up about $15,000 to $233,095, largely because of faculty salary increases. A request by Mayor Mitchell for emergency corridor and exit lighting will cost $2,000, it is estimated. A new press for the print shop will cost $4,000, replacing one that is more than 40 years old.

Wilson Junior High school budget estimate is up about $17,000 to $230,445, again largely due to salary increases. Another lighting request by Mayor Mitchell probably will cost $2,000.

Madison Junior High school budget estimate also is up about $23,000, due to salary increases of nearly $20,000. Elementary school outlays tentatively scheduled are $1,438,794, an increase of $75,587 over 1959. Repairing old schools and making improvements accounts for $22,000 of the increase; salary increases, $37,295.

All specific figures on salary increases were set forth under the existing salary schedule but not possible changes which may be made Friday night.

'We Believe' Code Adopted

Youth Directors Approve Using Behavior Guide

Appleton youth activities directors Tuesday night approved the "We Believe" code for junior high school conduct.

One addition was made, clarifying curfew hours for seventh, eighth and ninth grade joint functions. The addition reads, "In case of social activities involving combined seventh, eighth and ninth graders, the closing time for the activity will be 9:30 p.m., so everyone can be home by 10 p.m."

Some youth directors questioned the possibility of adjourning mid-week meetings for seventh and eighth graders in time for them to be home at 8:30, and for freshmen to be home at 9 p.m. It was agreed, however, that all organizations would try to adjourn their meetings in time for junior high students to observe curfews.

Items Approved
Every other item was approved by the youth directors, after a pro and con discussion, according to Mrs. W. J. Mumme, Roosevelt PTA youth committee chairman.

Mrs. Mumme said youth directors now will work out the code's use in their groups. Their study of the code will help coordinate activities and make sure all groups interpret the code alike, she said.

Youth activities leaders attending the meeting were Mrs. Mumme; William L. Harris, YMCA youth director; Mr. and Mrs. Karel G. Richmond, YMCA chaplains; the Rev. Kenneth Engelman, youth director of the First Methodist church; Wilford Smith, Jr., First Methodist chaplaine; the Rev. Carl E. Wilke, pastor of All Saints Episcopal church; Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Howells, All Saints chaplains; E. W. Grover, Sr., Appleton recreation department director; Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Manier, directors of the VFW and VFW auxiliary youth programs; the Rev. Karlton W.

Mrs. Edith Witt, 85, route 1, Bear Creek, died at 9:15 p.m. Tuesday in New London after a long illness. She was born Aug. 4, 1894, in the town of Maple Creek.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Friday at Grace Lutheran church, Sugar Bush. Friends may call at Cline and Hanson Funeral home, New London, from 7 p.m. today until 10:30 Friday, and then at the church. Burial will be in the new Maple Creek cemetery.

Mrs. Harlow Rouse, Sr., 74, of Dale, died unexpectedly at 8 p.m. at her home. She was born May 29, 1885, at Eureka. She lived 38 years in Dale where her husband operated the drug store.

Mrs. Wells, the former Lavonne Martin, was born March 8, 1937, in Clintonville. She died Monday in Milwaukee after a 3-week illness. She fell after suffering a stroke while in the bathtub.

'Sleep Walk' Top Tune; 'Mack the Knife' Rises

'Teen Beat' Moves to Sixth Place in Record Polls in Fox Cities; 'Morgen' Moving Up

BY DICK DISC

Top tune of the week for the second week in a row in the Fox Cities is "Sleep Walk" by Santo and Johnny. This slow instrumental is one of the first non-vocals to reach top status.

Runner-up for the week is a new tune that has really climbed. It's Bobby Darin's

Fibber, Molly Good on Video, Reviewer Says

BY CYNTHIA LOWRY

New York —(U)— Old friends of "Fibber McGee and Molly" must have been relieved to find the Wistful Vista couple have been moved intact from radio to the television screen.

Such a delicate transplant would have failed in any but expert and loving hands.

Bob Sweeney fits neatly into this viewer's mental picture of Fibber and Cathy Lewis is perfect as Molly.

Earlier "Laramie," an hour-long western, also made its debut. This is a good professional show but like most TV horse operas seems to have an unnecessary amount of shooting and slugging.

swinging version of "Mack the Knife."

There are no other new tunes, but another good mover is Sandy Nelson's "Teen Beat," now up to sixth place.

Here's the top 10:

1. "Sleep Walk" by Santo and Johnny.
2. "Mack the Knife" by Bobby Darin.
3. "The Three Bells" by the Browns.
4. "Put Your Head On My Shoulder" by Paul Anka.
5. "I'm Gonna Get Married" by Lloyd Price.
6. "Teen Beat" by Sandy Nelson.
7. "I'll Kissed You" by the Everly Brothers.
8. "Red River Rock" by Johnny and the Hurricanes.
9. "Makin' Love" by Floyd Robinson.
10. "Broken-Hearted Melody" by Sarah Vaughn.

Other strong contenders that didn't make the list this week, but are going strong across the nation are "Baby Talk" and "Morgen."

New tunes this week include: "Across the Street From Your House" by Barry De Vorzon. This young man's debut recording has a lot on the ball. It's a calypso-type number that moves along. The backing also is good and adds a lot. A nice sounding tune.

"Make Believe Baby" by Sal Mineo. Another swinging tune and also the first in a long time by this young movie star. There's a good beat and the melody carries along in fine style. Nice chorus, that comes in loudly at times. Good effort all around.

"I Was There" by Tommy Edwards. Ballad with a beat would be a good description of this number. Edwards' mellow voice lends itself well to ballads and this one has a lot to offer.

British-Born Actress Pamela Mason raises her right hand as she takes the oath of the U. S. citizenship in Los Angeles during ceremonies conducted by U. S. District Judge Thurmond Clarke, left. Pamela, wife of actor James Mason, said, "For the first time in my life, I don't feel like a foreigner."

Godfrey Good In Return to TV

BY CYNTHIA LOWRY

New York —(U)— Arthur Godfrey, with a troupe which included a herd of cattle, a small elephant and a line of hula dancers, popped back on the nation's TV screens after a long and worrisome absence. He looked well, even a bit plump after his battle against lung cancer.

Godfrey had a fine time exploring the potentials of tape recording. He led the audience merrily from New York to his Leesburg, Va., farm to Hawaii and then around the route again. There was music, dancing and singing at all stops.

It was a great show for those who love Godfrey and for those who enjoy travel, which probably includes just about everyone. Anyway, it's nice to have Godfrey back in business again.

Red Skelton Rests After Hospital Stay

Hollywood —(U)— Red Skelton went home from a week-end rest in a hospital to bed for more rest.

Skelton, 46, was reported fa-figured by a summer tour of night clubs, a 2-week trip to Japan and a return stand at a Las Vegas hotel. He returns to television Sept. 29.

'Woman' Explores New Problem

BY CYNTHIA LOWRY

New York —(U)— Male and female roles are in the process of change in America.

That generally was the conclusion reached by the exploration of "Woman!"—CBS' second daytime special—of that old question: "Is the American woman losing her femininity?"

The hour-long show (which happens to have been written, produced, directed and photographed by men) was largely filmed in San Francisco. Spokesmen included some affluent bar flies (male), some junior leaguers, some suburbanites. Experts were professors and anthropologist Margaret Mead who summed up the situation neatly.

No great novelty was uncovered which took over time normally occupied by a marriage counselling show and end of rest in a hospital to bed for more rest.

But all in all "Woman!" is a good idea.

Khrushchev Given Tips by Iowa Farmer Roswell Garst

Soviet Premier Enjoys Dinner at Rambling Farm, Tours Property

Coon Rapids, Iowa. —(AP)—during his several trips to Iowa, Farmer Roswell Garst today gave Nikita S. Khrushchev some tips on how to produce more food in Russia when the Soviet leader visited his farm.

But his larger purpose, Garst said, was to help with the task of "selling Khrushchev on an arms inspection plan to get rid of the burden of armaments."

Garst is a hybrid corn expert, livestock raiser, farmer, banker and proprietor of a general store in Coon Rapids (population 1,700) some 65 miles northwest of Des Moines. He met Khrushchev

Breeders' Sale of 43 Hogs Set Saturday at Seymour

Forty-three boars, open gilts and bred gilts will be auctioned at the ninth annual Outagamie county swine breeders fall sale starting at 1:30 p.m. Saturday at the Seymour fairgrounds.

Marsh Hay Cut For Bedding

Royalton — Farmers in Waupaca county have been cutting third crops of marsh hay for stock bedding from some 38,525 acres.

Royalton has extensive marshes at White lake and the town of Mukwa along the Wolf river. The tame crops of clover and alfalfa have qualities making it good for fertilizer after stock use.

Mink ranchers use the marsh hay because it does not injure fur in any way. It is absorbent and when wet doesn't stain.

Strontium-90 Taken From Milk Safely

St. Louis —(AP)—A Southern Illinois University professor says he can remove strontium-90 from milk without reducing the calcium content.

But F. Donald Bloss, associate professor of geology, says his method of removing 60 per cent of the radioactive element will require lots more research before it is useful on a commercial basis.

Polish Family Settles in Sheridan After Years of Concentration Camps

Zeone Sulikowski Forced to Build Nazis Bombs During World War II

BY ROY F. VALITCHKA II
Post-Crescent Staff Writer
Sheridan — Building bombs and grenades in concentration camps is different than sowing corn and alfalfa on Wisconsin farm land.
The family of Zeone Sulikowski started farming in their native Poland. But from 1939 to 1945 were held in Russian and German concentration camps. Today they live on an 82-acre farm in central Waupaca county.
Sulikowski worked a 45 or 50-acre farm in Antonovka, Poland, in the southwest portion of the country. Time was spent in the hardwood forests surrounding the hilly farmland.
Life changed quickly for Sulikowski, his bride and their 7-month-old child. Just before the German invasion of Russia in 1942 the family was placed 18 months in a Russian concentration camp after the reds had overrun Poland.
In 1942 when Russia was pushed back by Germany the three were carted to Wajsenburg, Germany, where they lived in a camp until 1945.
"I'm lucky if have enough bread or potatoes to live," Sulikowski's wife recalled. "You can't go anywhere. All you get is milk, soup and potatoes to eat," she added.
There were 400 to 500 persons in the German camp where life was hard compared to the Russian camp, the husband said. Daily at 7 a. m. German police marched them to underground war plants to construct hand grenades. The women assembled bombs. There was no threat of air raids or bombing in our town because of the underground plants, Sulikowski said.
"Friends were found nowhere in the camp. Everyone cared only for himself," the wife said.
Allied Liberation
Liberation from half starvation and long hours of work came when allied forces crushed Germany. The Sulikowskis were then taken to an American camp.
"How things changed," Mrs. Sulikowski said. "Clothes, food and everything were given us then," she added. The women no longer had to work. Her husband was employed in food lines handing out rations.
While in the American camp their second son was born. Shortly after, in 1949, the family had a chance to come to the United States.
Farm Sponsor
A man in Manchester, Mich., was to sponsor the family and bring them to this country. He was unable, Mrs. Sulikowski said, so a farmer from Sauk City, Wis., brought them over. The family lived with the Sauk City farmer seven months to a year then moved to live with their original sponsor for a time in Michigan.
Later the family moved to Chicago where Sulikowski was sick. He worked as a factory laborer.
"We often came here to vacation in summer and my husband felt better. So we bought this farm," Mrs. Sulikowski explained.
The Sulikowskis have been married 18 years now and have three sons, Stanley, 17, Raymond, 13, and Frankie, 7.

Jowl Abscess In Swine Hits Corn Belt

Disease Can Reach 100 Per Cent Endemic in Herd

Corn belt farmers, the area into which Fox Valley feeder pigs are shipped, are troubled with a jowl abscess in swine that can reach 100 per cent on certain farms.

These farmers must be on the lookout for superficial lesions which appear as variable-size swellings the size of a golf ball or orange in the lateral or ventral cervical region. A greenish matter may be seen coming from a ragged opening through the skin when the abscesses drain. Deep seated abscesses may pass undetected until the affected animal is slaughtered. The animal remains thrifty and continues to make weight gains the same as others in the herd. No interference with breathing or swallowing is noted.

Act as Carriers
There is reason to believe some gilts or sows from an infected herd act as carriers of the disease. They pass it on to their pigs, and in a few weeks after farrowing the pigs develop abscesses which ripen and drain usually around feeders or waterers.

If the draining material is swallowed by others in the herd, infection spreads. In this manner an entire herd may be seeded.

In some herds, the disease reaches its peak early in weaning time. In others the build-up of infection is slower and a high percentage of abscesses are noted in market hogs. These are the ones that give the farmer trouble. They may pass unnoticed until the inspector incises the affected area.

Ballot Set To Determine Color of Beets

Growers to Ask Field Day Crowd To State Choice

What beet color do you prefer?

Visitors to the University of Wisconsin's Farm Field day on Oct. 8 will help decide this question for Wisconsin beet growers and processors.

Andrew Rice, food specialist at the university, says that up to now, beet canners had no way of telling whether the housewife who bought their product would like the color of the beets. Sometimes whole lots of beets were rejected on the basis of a buyer's hunch that customers would not like the color.

Now Rice and his colleagues are setting out to take some of the guesswork out of consumer color preference. Guests at their field day exhibit will see sliced beets of eight different hues, ranging from pale orange to a purplish-red that looks almost black. These colors are representative of 58 beet varieties grown on the university farm.

The researchers will ask viewers to rank the beets from the least attractive slice to the most attractive one. These ratings will help set up a range of colors that most people like.

Once the range is established, color ratings won't be left to the eyes of the individual fieldmen who buy beets.

This consumer preference test is only one of many exhibits and demonstrations planned for the Oct. 8 event.

Corn production and harvesting will be shown, with corn machinery as a prominent feature. There will be also exhibits of interest to women.

The university's farm is sit-

Leland R. Mueller, 322 W. Harris street, has written the city council demanding that there be no "fogging" of his property with insecticide.

Congress and Interest Rates

Speaking of the accomplishments of Congress recently President Eisenhower said:

I think the flat refusal to take care of the matter of our long range financing is one of the most serious things that has happened to the United States in my time. This is something that causes great concern and it must be in some way or another corrected, because we are having too much short term financing, and all that paper is really money, and this means it puts a pressure upon the interest rate and the cost of doing business, and also it, of course, is another inciting cause of inflation.

During his press conference the president was asked what he was going to do about this failure of Congress to act. He replied:

We fought very hard to get people to comprehend what these facts really mean to the United States, and we seem to have failed.

Now, they did do certain things, one making it possible to pay better interest rates on our E and H bonds. . . . This ought to at least allay the fear of the holders, 40 million people, and to stop any rush toward their cashing in.

. . . But by and large, we simply have not been able to convince the Congress as to vital necessity of this thing, and I think that the financial community, insurance companies, the banks and everybody else, has a job to do on educating our public, so that the Congress will feel the heat of truth about this matter and do something.

Rep. Byrnes, of this district, who is a member of the House Ways and Means committee which handled the legislation on interest rates, recently pointed out that because the Treasury is restricted to paying no more than 4 1/4 per cent interest on loans exceeding five years, the government had to finance millions of dollars of its debt by going into the short term market where there is no ceiling. He pointed out that this pushes up the short term interest rate because such government borrowing competes with borrowing by small businesses, individuals who buy cars and such.

An article by Robert B. Shaw, in the September issue of the Magazine of Wall Street, discusses this problem of national finance in a way that should clarify the problem for many. Shaw points out that the inconvenience to the Treasury department in managing its huge debt on a short term basis is not the primary reason for lifting the interest rate on long term issues.

A Peanut Racket Costs Thousands

Salesmanship is a powerful force. Salesmen supply an economic leadership that often directs important trends in a community. If salesmanship is applied to the distribution of useful articles a great deal can be added to the wealth and the well-being of the community merely by directing the people's investments into useful items. On the other hand when skilled salesmen use their talents to encourage investments in useless items, the salesmen may profit temporarily but the community and the investors inevitably lose.

Right now hundreds of people in the vicinity of Chicago are being bilked in a racket which involves the sale of peanut machines. The state's attorney's office has received hundreds of complaints from people who purchased some old-fashioned peanut machines and a quantity of peanuts in the expectation that the operation of the machines would pay off the investment and return a profit to the investors.

The investor usually is taken in by a glib salesman who convinces him that with a route of about 20 peanut machines he will be able to pay for peanuts at 40 cents a pound, pay the storekeeper at the location of the machine 20 per cent of his gross, pay the machine owner 70 cents per week per machine and then out of his profits pay off the cost of the machines and make a profit for himself. The investor has a vision of machines dispensing vast amounts of peanuts, making it necessary for him to empty the cashbox frequently,

It is the threat of inflation that is important and Shaw discusses that in these words:

Long term bonds are ordinarily held, by individuals and institutions, on a permanent basis. They sterilize purchasing power. Bills and notes, however, are typically held by banks and corporations as a close equivalent of cash. They not only mature recurrently but can be sold quickly at any time or borrowed against to obtain funds for any purpose desired. In the hands of commercial banks, they comprise prime secondary reserves which can be turned into cash, thus allowing legal reserves to be kept at a minimum.

Throughout the banking system as a whole, loans can be extended, equivalent to roughly five times the legal reserves. In brief, the long term bonds usually take money out of circulation and thus reduce the spending pressure. Bills and notes often wind up as cash, adding to the money supply and can, therefore, be a strong inflationary stimulant.

In opposing the lifting of the interest rate, some members of Congress have argued that the rates could be maintained at the artificially low level if the Federal Reserve would support the price of the bonds. Shaw points out that this "would not only destroy the independence of the Federal Reserve system, but by taking the government bonds at par, would make them the equivalent of cash and thus add $285 billions to the money supply at one stroke!"

Oddly enough it is the same element in Congress that has been demanding more spending that has refused to authorize the higher interest rates. Somehow or another these congressmen feel that there is a popular objection to higher interest rates and they are posing as saviors of the people in refusing to recognize as a fact that money cannot be borrowed today at the present ceilings on the long term loans.

The fact of the matter is that the interest rate is set by the law of supply and demand and Congress has nothing to say about it. Regardless of what action Congress takes, the government to get the money will have to pay the going rate. That is, it will have to pay a rate that will win loans in competition with commercial borrowers. That is what is being done on the short term bonds. As the president put it, until more people understand this and compel Congress to act rationally, the Treasury will have a problem and unfortunately many people will suffer by more inflation.

but he soon discovers that most of the machines sell only one or two handfuls of peanuts per day and his peanut route yields nothing like the money necessary to pay off contracts he has signed.

One woman reported that she and her husband had signed contracts to pay $600 for 10 peanut machines to be operated in Park Forest. When the Park Forest officials put a $10 license fee on each machine the storekeepers where they were located threw them out and the couple found themselves with idle peanut machines in storage and bags full of peanuts molding beside them. Even where the machines are permitted to remain they yield nothing like the amount needed so that the operator often is no better off than he would be if the machines had been thrown out and stored as with the Park Forest couple.

Some of the people who have invested in these machines can be helped by the state's attorney while others cannot, depending on the kind of contracts they signed. Usually such sales are made under a conditional sales contract which is immediately discounted with some investment firm and remains a binding contract on the investor regardless of whether or not the item purchased turns out to be useful. When such promotions are being pushed in Chicago it is very probable that they will spread out to nearby territory and the people in Wisconsin should be on the lookout for them. By using a little common sense in investments they may save themselves some grief.

Fences for the Wisconsin Indians

The "fence me in" type of legislation which has long been used by trades and professions in Wisconsin to protect them from competition has now been put to use to protect Wisconsin's Indians.

It is no longer possible for roving bands of Indians to move into Wisconsin to harvest rice. Under a law recently signed by Gov. Nelson, licenses will be required for the harvesting of wild rice.

In the past the Indians of Minnesota and Michigan have been protected by such laws, but they were free to come to Wisconsin to harvest rice as it suited their convenience. Thus the Wisconsin Indians have been competing against Minnesota and Michigan Indians in the harvest of wild rice while they were prohibited from entering the harvest of the neighboring states. Most "fence me in" bills tend to reduce competition and thus increase the cost to the consumer. That may be the effect of this measure also, but in this instance it certainly seems justified and proper.

Fence Petitioner Doesn't Like 'Hogans' Using Lawn as Fairway

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Friday's article about the golf course demanding a fence made me chuckle. We too have a side to this story, only our points of view were excluded.

I wish I had a penny for each and every time a golf ball was played out of my yard. I have so many holes in the lawn that I gave up trying to keep up an appearance — my decision was to bury the next "Hogan" who thinks he'll play his ball out of there the next time. These pros are such marvelous golfers that they can't stand to take a penalty for a ball out of bounds. And the remarks I get for asking them not to play it out of there — "and they say this is a free country." The rest of the language I hear is unprintable, but I can say this, they don't play with a golf ball, it's something else.

In all, we have had 10 broken windows. Some are man enough to come over and pay for the damage — the others — well you can guess.

Most of our shrubs are "clubbed" looking for golf balls. I would gladly give you a 75c golf ball against a $10 to 15 yew.

Golf balls go dancing from one car to another in our garage, leaving a few dents. I swear that when I leave this world, it'll be by a flying golf ball.

My suggestion to these golfers is to buy a compass for your club. Perhaps that'll help you and us.

We chose this location because we liked it out here so don't tell us to move out. We too want protection. I don't object for a golfer to come across and retrieve his ball, but for heavens sake put yourself in our place. Be a bit human.

I'm not against golfers. I "try" to "play" a few times with my neighbors whenever I can, so that throws a wrench in your idea that I dislike the game.

So, I too am one of the 263 people who signed for the fence. Hope it can do us some good.

No Red Has Ever Put Wreath on Sen. Joe's Grave

Editor: Post-Crescent:

The fact that Khrushchev just recently placed a wreath on Franklin Roosevelt's grave proves that the Russian Communists are not enemies of the Roosevelts, but very dear friends. This is as the people have suspected for a long time.

So far I haven't seen a communist put a wreath on Joe McCarthy's grave. You must admit that Joe was the world's greatest communist fighter, and it's about time the people give him credit for it.

Ald. Heinz Plans Bent Wood Plant

79 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of Sept. 25, 1880.

Mr. Chris Heinz informs us that he has purchased the water power lot of Reeder Smith at the foot of Drew Street for the purpose of engaging largely in the manufacture of plows and bent wood work — a good opening in that line, especially since we have no bent works in that city.

Ald. Heinz possesses the energy and experience to make a success in this new enterprise. He will not engage in building until next year.

Legislative Interim Work Is Increasing

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — About 70 out of 100 members of the Wisconsin assembly have drawn some kind of interim committee work this year, and each of the members of the state senate has been chosen for seats on at least two special study committees.

Wyngaard

The figures represent the high-water mark, so to speak, of the phenomenon of year-around legislative activity that has developed steadily during the last 20 years and that one day, almost surely, will bring about an adjustment of the state's constitutional arrangements for one session during each biennium.

There will be some polite skepticism about the need for such an elaborate between-sessions machine, with the considerable additional cost that is thus assured. And there is some reason for believing that the professional staff of these committees is not disposed to discourage this tendency for more and more interim explorations.

Yet the philosophical onlooker is inclined to regard the business as inevitable, and even, perhaps, as having some considerable potential for good.

HOW IT GOES

In a time when the financial welfare of each person is related ever more directly to the quality and the conscience of legislatures, there surely can be no harm done in permitting them to educate themselves.

One legislative agent put it well the other day as he watched the nomination process of the Legislative Council and the creation of the longest list of interim committees ever authorized.

He is interested in a special mission — the reform of some of the laws relating to urban governments and is making strikingly little progress in a legislature that basically retains its non-urban orientation and in which some of the urban members have not yet risen to real power.

"If I can educate a handful of these men every biennium," he remarked, "I might one day be able to communicate with this legislature."

Basically, of course, this proclivity for interim legislative deliberation is not related to a passion for self-improvement of the individual legislative politician. The reasons are quite different.

There is a junketeering instinct in the best of the legislators. They like a chance to get away from home, to come to Madison, to make a little political noise and perhaps add to their stature in their own party — all at state expense.

There is also the growing habit of laying aside, for a "study," those matters that are too hot to handle during the regular legislative session. Maybe a compromise can be worked out. Maybe the problem will go away. In any event, an interim investigation means the deferral of the uncomfortable roll call.

BUT MORE

There is another motive that is more subtle, one that is real and important to a few of the more thoughtful legislative leaders, and is apprehended only vaguely by the others.

It is a matter of sharing prerogatives with the executive arm of the state. There probably are few legislatures in the country in which the legislature has asserted its co-equal status more clearly than has the Wisconsin legislature. Many of these interim committees are delving into subjects that under all academic definitions would be the prerogative of the governor.

The best illustration of this jealous assertion of rights and power is the extra-constitutional evolution of the recessed legislative session. In most states, and notably in neighboring Illinois, the legislature's enactments are at the mercy of the governor when it adjourns. He can veto, without the possibility of an appeal. In Wisconsin it now is the tacit rule that the legislature recess, in order to provide a chance to review the governor's vetoes. It has been going on for a decade and a half and has probably become a permanent fixture.

Fume Film Fans Find Features Full of Frolic

Now that movie goers are taking for granted screens bigger than all out-doors and sounds that come from all sides, the motion picture industry is about to toss out a new sensation — films that smell.

While the more jaundiced may suggest that artistically, at least, Hollywood has been accomplishing this trick for some time, the new scheme would fill theaters with aromas that belong in filmed action.

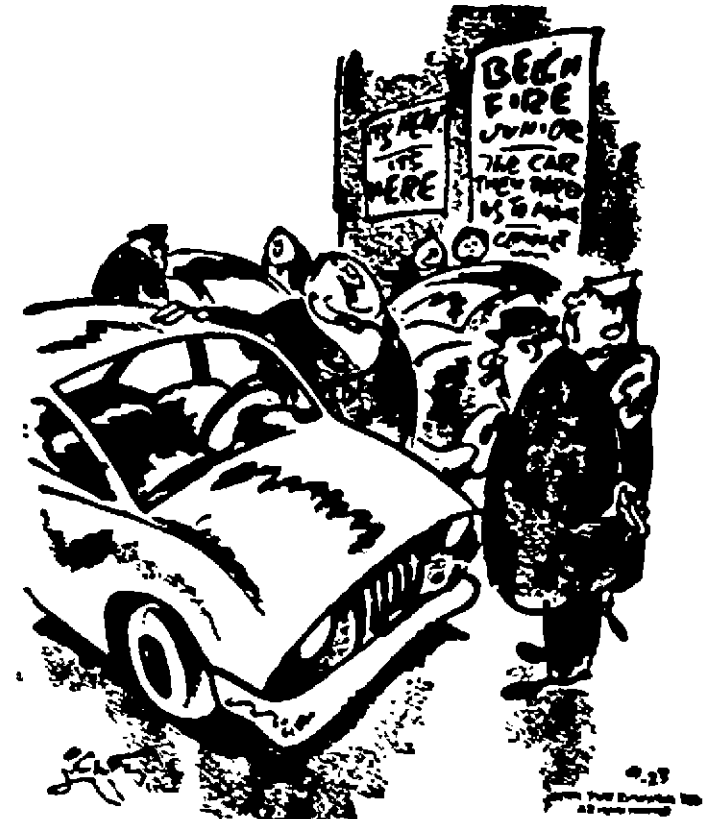

This bit of cinema flamboyance is being presented by an industry figure, Michael Todd, Jr., whose name is synonymous with cinema innovations. Carrying on in the same original vein as his father, Todd has worked up a film with some 40 smells. "Integrated with the action either for humor or to add romance or suspense."

Each seat in theaters showing Todd's experiment will be fitted out with a small dispenser that operates in conjunction with regular film sound tracks. The idea, of course, is to add a new dimension that other entertainment forms can't match.

And with any success in the first, smell-o-vision production, "Scent of Mystery," movie goers may soon come away evenings telling each other, "I liked him very much, but I do wish Hollywood would give him better smells."

Ronald J. Gauthier, 19, 47 from Highway 54 to County Trunk A and two miles south on A. It was raining at the time of the chase, police said.

School Zone Speeding
Three youths were ordered to pay $25 costs and their drivers' licenses were revoked after they admitted speeding on N. Badger avenue near Appleton High school. Because of their age, the usual six points for speeding in a school zone cannot be charged against their driving records.

John C. Hohman, 16, of 224 S. Schaefer street; Thomas E. Krueger, 16, of 1707 S. Carpenter street; and Thomas R. Liethen, 17, of 1412 Oakcrest drive, were told their licenses were revoked for three months, but Judge Schmige held the last two months pending no arrests for a moving traffic violation during the next year.

Gear Missing
Adolph R. Genslak, 24, Dundas, told the court a small gear in the speedometer of his car was short one tooth, consequently the speed reading was lower than the actual speed. He brought along the gear tooth and repair report as evidence. Judge Schmige dismissed a charge of speeding 65 miles an hour in a 55-mile zone when state police told the court the explanation was reasonable.

McElroy Says He May Resign

Anchorage, Alaska—The Secretary of Defense McElroy, off on a 28-day tour of U.S. installations in the far east, says he may resign by the end of the year.

In a planeside interview during a brief stop here Monday McElroy was asked about his plans to leave government service. He has said in the past he would like to return to private life.

He told newsmen he feels he can't quite until he has submitted his department's budget for the next fiscal year. He added that it might be possible for him to step down in December, barring a national emergency.

Man Wanted for Bad Checks Faces Charge

Waldo W. Ballhorn, 30, Newport, Ore., Monday in municipal court waived extradition on a charge of forgery and will be taken to Oregon. He will be held under $10,000 bond, authorities there indicated.

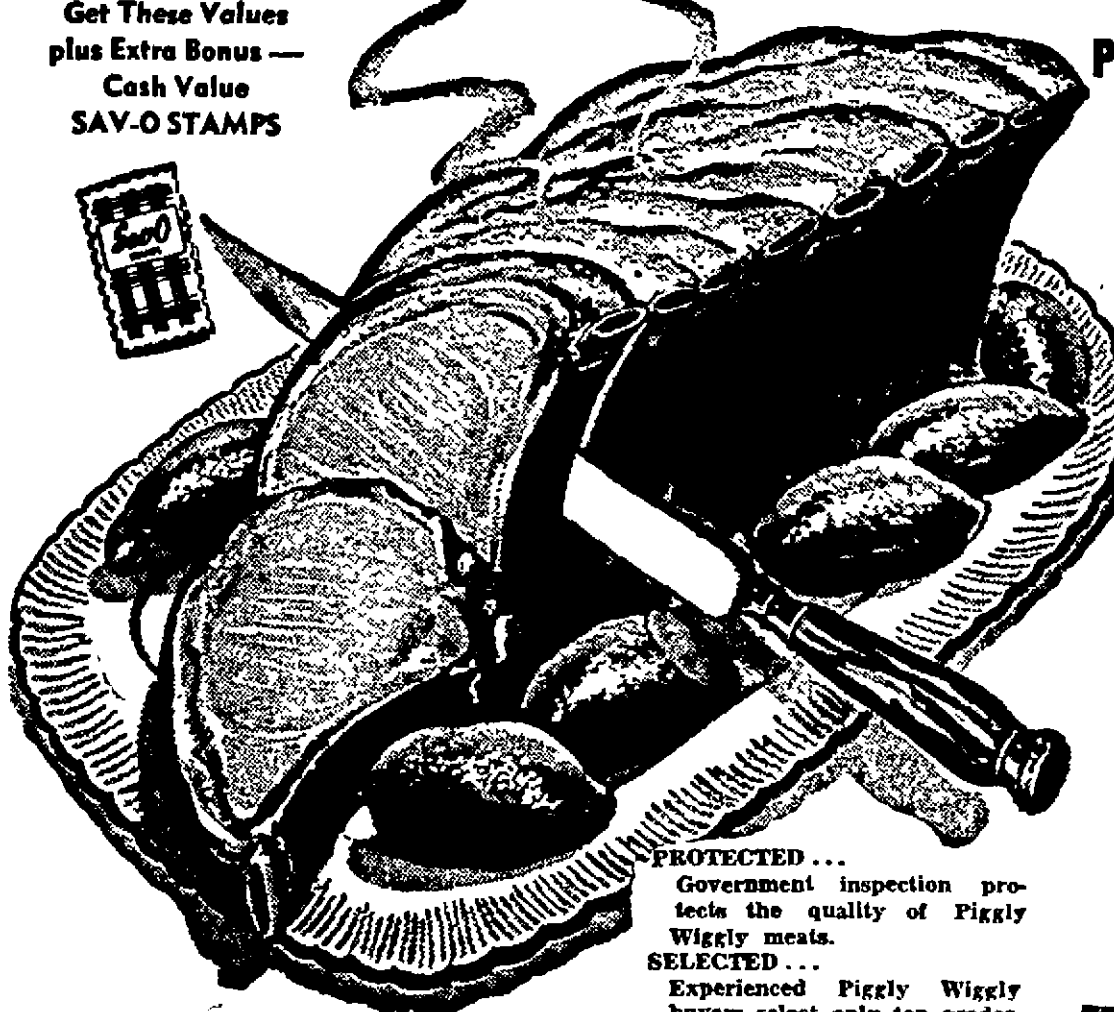

Ballhorn left Oregon Sept. 10 after buying a car and cashing $3,482.01 in checks to which he had forged his brother-in-law's name, Oregon authorities said. Ballhorn came to Appleton to visit relatives.

He gave himself up to Appleton police after a woman intermediary called an Appleton detective at 3:30 a. m. Monday.

Ballhorn has a long record, including a sentence to Leavenworth federal prison, police indicated.

"Not one of our cows has had foot rot since we paved the barnyard with concrete!"

Says BILL WARD, Fort Atkinson, Wisconsin

"Getting rid of mud in the barnyard sure ended foot infections. In fact, concrete pavement has made it easier to keep our herd healthier in every way. We spend only half as much time on cow-cleaning. And we aren't forever hauling dirt and gravel to fill up holes in the yard."

Cows stay healthy and produce better when there's no mud around to carry germs. Foot rot and mastitis are often linked for good when barnyards are paved completely with concrete.

Passing strict inspections is far less work, too. As much as 4 hours a week in cow-cleaning time alone can be saved. Yard cleaning goes faster and none of the manure is lost.

Cost? Less than you'd think! And you get your money back fast in extra profits. Get all the facts. An informative booklet is yours for the asking.

Small Magazines Have Enormous Influence for Both Good and Bad

BY GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY
A bookseller in a small town was telling me recently that he was surprised at how young people bought high-brow paper-back books. He carries a full stock of such titles and his customers are mostly what he calls youngsters. Of course, it was always youngsters who were enthusiastic for great literature. It is a characteristic of youth to discover and explore. Each generation produces its Marco Polos and its Christopher Columbuses. And each generation finds a bit of disillusionment when it realizes that Romeo and Juliet loved even as young people today find love.

It is so with the small magazines. Their circulations run between 5,000 and 30,000. Yet, they exercise an enormous influence because their articles are usually written with great care, by writers who seek to express themselves rather than to earn some money.

It used to be that "The Nation" and "The New Republic" led this field. "The Nation" has had a long history of supporting what appeared to be lost causes, but which over a period of time, became a rule of life in our country. In recent years, it has lost much of its savor. "The New Republic" was at one time one of the most important organs of opinion in the United States. It was a subsidized publication in the sense that Willard Straight, a liberal-minded J. P. Morgan partner, underwrote its losses for a period.

The Great Editors "The New Republic" was conceived by Herbert Croly and included a galaxy of editors, including Walter Lippmann, today unequalled by any publication. In recent years, it has lost caste, perhaps because it has been unable to sustain the high quality of 40 years ago. Croly died; Lippmann became a columnist; Charles Merz became editor of "The New York Times" and has been lost in its magnitude. Other editors died or became disillusioned or simply gave up.

"The New Leader" is a lively, socialistic magazine which publishes some of the most important articles to appear in this country. Its range is world-wide and sometimes one is startled by the significance of the men who write for it. One can readily say that "The New Leader" is one of the most useful magazines in the United States, although, I must confess, it generally opposes much that I favor.

The "National Review" is the most erudite publication on the right. Its quality is high; its articles important; its editors earnest. It loses about $100,000 a year, for which it has to beg. It is much easier to beg on the left than on the right. Capitalists admire money success and do not understand why a publication that is worthy should not earn its way. Of course, the explanation is that these same capitalists do not place advertisements in publications except on the basis of circulation and erudite journals of opinion are not liable to have large circulations.

The "National Review" is written in literate English which ought to appeal to those college students who wish to know how the other half thinks. It has been unpromisingly a conservative journal, which is something difficult to be in this country without suffering from the tendency to slip over into crack-pot notions. It must be a trying editorial task to keep the nuts out, because the right wing attracts as many peculiar people as the left and I sometimes wonder if they are not of a kind.

Two publications on the right are "Human Events" and "Counterattack." Both are news letters, although "Human Events" publishes important articles as supplements. "Counterattack" maintains the file on Communist activities in the United States.

Among the small magazines are hate sheets designed to stimulate hatred for Jews, Catholics, Negroes, Communists, anti-Communists, vivisectionists, etc. There seems to be a lot of money available for such publications most of which are badly edited; poorly printed and devoted to falsehoods of a special nature. It is remarkable that some of them, obviously false, exercise a considerable influence. (Copyright, 1959)

Youthful Pair Steal Car, Captured by Neenah Police

A 17-year-old youth was turned over to the Appleton juvenile bureau and an 18-year-old Dale Jost, 1335 Catherine street, was jailed for a 2-week pre-sentence investigation after they were taken into custody by Neenah police shortly before midnight Saturday in a stolen convertible.

Jost admitted riding in the car and knowing it was stolen when arraigned Tuesday in municipal court. He was charged with stealing a car.

The 17-year-old, who worked at a business place near the parking lot in the 100 block of N. Morrison street from which the car was stolen, was released after police interrogated him. The youth spends his summers in Appleton and is a native of Skokie, Ill. He is entering the armed forces next month.

The car, owned by Ralph Glasbrenner, route 1, Appleton, was not damaged. The Skokie youth told Jost about the car, which was left in the lot after some tire work was done. The keys to the car were under a floor mat. The youth had overheard a conversation in which the owner said he would leave the car on the lot overnight.

The two youths took the car and picked up a girl to go for

Goodland Field Rent Cost Foxes $2,000 for Season

The Fox Cities Foxes paid the recreation commission $2,000 for rental of Goodland field this season.

The amount is the minimum the club must pay under terms of a contract with the commission.

Last year, when the contract provided only for a commission share of gross gate receipts, the club paid $1,766.12.

Club officials, in making the second and final rental payment Tuesday, said gross gate receipts for all home games amounted to $25,355.91. This year's contract stipulated a $2,000 minimum or 5 per cent of the first $25,000, 6 per cent of the next $20,000, 7 per cent of the next $20,000 and 10 per cent over $60,000, all exclusive of federal entertainment taxes.

Coalition in Congress Kept Costs in Line

Neither Party Can Claim Credit For Achievement

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — The real story of what happened at the last session of congress somehow isn't being told. Republicans claim credit for important laws passed and sound fiscal policies upheld. Democrats argue that they, too, kept the Lawrence spending down. The usual flood of statements "pointing with pride" or "viewing with alarm" has been issued. What is the truth?

The fact is that neither party can claim credit for the achievements, nor can either party be blamed for the failures.

There is no way of fixing responsibility in an irresponsible government such as America has today. When the American people voted into congress enough Democrats from the northern states to give that party a two-thirds majority the nation was told that the Democratic party had obtained "control." Yet the White House continued in the hands of the Republican party. Divided government spells irresponsibility. The national and executive legislature are of the same party in any responsible government.

On every controversial issue it was the Republicans in coalition with the southern Democrats who gave the nation some of the constructive legislation just passed.

The Southern Bloc It was the southern bloc which helped to keep government spending down. When Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas and speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas issue political statements about the way the Democrats held the line on expenditures, they are not speaking of the Democratic party as a whole. It was a combination with Republicans in both houses that did it. If the Democrats from the north, instead of such champions of moderation as Johnson and Rayburn had been allowed to run the Democratic party in congress the budget would have been grossly unbalanced.

The conservative coalition saved the country from disaster at the last session of congress. Had the northern democrats been given their way, the confidence of the business world would have been shaken, prices would be skyrocketing today, and the increased inflation would have further diminished the purchasing power of the dollar.

Mr. Eisenhower didn't fail to put his finger on the crux of the problem when he said in his formal statement last week end:

Conservatives Stood Together "I pay my respects to those among the political opposition without whose cooperation our efforts against extravagance and legislative excesses would have been in vain. These men, though subjected to severe party pressures, had the conviction and courage to stand up and be counted on issue after issue basic to the welfare of the nation. Sincerely I congratulate them for their good work for America this session."

This is but another way of saying that conservatives stood together against "radicals" or "liberal spenders." The south, which is the stronghold of conservatism, spared the nation the excesses that a radical wing of the Democratic party would have enacted.

The president was also gracious in his praise for those

INDIANA HOUSEWIFE ENDS IRREGULARITY

There's a safe way to overcome constipation caused by lack of food bulk. Mrs. Orville Wilson, Terre Haute, Ind., writes: "I was troubled with irregularity for years. One week ago I started eating Kellogg's All-Bran and now it is a must. It has helped me discontinue pills of any sort."

When your diet doesn't supply the bulk your system needs, the pleasant way to get it is with Kellogg's All-Bran. This whole bran cereal can provide all the goodness bulk required for safe, natural regularity. A daily half-cup with milk keeps millions on schedule.

Try Kellogg's All-Bran for 10 days—let it help you, too.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

democrats who abandoned their partisanship on foreign affairs, even though they didn't go along with the administration on domestic questions. He said:

Leadership Role These accomplishments are due also to no small extent to the effective role of leadership played by the president. When all is said and done, a catastrophe in congress has been averted in recent months only in fact that a man who has the confidence of the people of the United States is in the White House. Public opinion still rules.

One shudders to think what may happen to the economic position of the United States at home and abroad if presidential leadership should falter in the next several years — if the radical wing of the Democratic party not only gets a big majority in congress but elects to the White House a candidate holding its ideological beliefs. The issue in the 1960 campaign might well point up the direct challenge presented by radicalism and fiscal irresponsibility. The Democrats in the south will continue conservative, but in the north the voters are about evenly divided between Republicans and Democrats. It is in the primaries of both parties, therefore, where the battle should be fought so that non-radicals will be elected to congress irrespective of the party label.

To Your Good Health

Alcohol High in Food Calories, Lacks Nutritional Components

By Joseph G. Molner, M.D. Alcohol, as we said yesterday, is both a drug and a food, albeit a food high in calories and lacking in everything else there. The rest is absorbed in the upper part of the intestine. Yet normal foods may require hours for complete absorption.

So what chance does a slice of meat or more of bread, eaten after, since we have of helping to it is absorbed bring on sobriety? None. Directly Into Blood Stream The alcohol goes into the blood stream and has its principal effect on the brain and central nervous system.

Dr. Seward E. Miller, formerly of the U.S. Public Health service and now at the University of Michigan, who recently edited an excellent brochure on the health factors of safe driving, quotes various authorities who basically agree: Alcohol shows promptly in the blood, and .05 percent or less is enough to affect your driving skill. The so-called drunkometer tests use the level of being drunk. But that's not the point here. The body will throw off about .015 in an hour. Alcohol, going through the liver, is turned into aldehydes (irritating to the liver) which are broken down into other substances including water and carbon dioxide. But it takes time, and there is little if anything that can be done to speed the process, once the alcohol has been absorbed. Foods Retards Absorption Eating before drinking is another matter. If the stomach is full of solid foods, these can retard the speed with which the alcohol can move based only on the fact that on to the intestine. Protein foods, milk in particular, and cheese, eggs and meat, will retard the absorption of the alcohol. Likewise oils (olive oil, and cream) are effective, too. This is one of the correct bits of folklore about alcohol. Starches, however, do very little to retard its progress. The Yale Center of Alcohol studies (from which I have taken other data) calculates that one drink on an empty stomach may have an immediate effect greater than three drinks after a meal. But it is a matter of delaying, not changing, the amount of alcohol and its effect. Slow up the absorption, and the body has more time to keep up with the disposal of the alcohol. That's all. It is my suspicion that the idea of eating after drinking — and spoiling the glow, is

As to drinking black coffee: alcohol is a depressant, and caffeine is a stimulant. Thus the coffee will counteract that element of the alcohol to some modest extent. That's all it will do. Exercise, if brisk enough to speed up bodily processes, will to some very small extent speed the departure of alcohol, but in a practical way it is of very little use. There just isn't anything except time that will remove the alcohol, once it has been drunk. If there are doubters, my suggestion is that they read the reports of the Yale Center.
